What Did Bears Ever Do For You?

by Joseph W. Bean and Brian L. Gollum

Bears are not a definite sub-group of gay men. They are not a certain thing like blacks or jews or amputees. And still everyone has an idea of where, more or less, the dividing lines are. Bears are probably hairy and likely to have whiskers. They can be small, or medium, but they tend to be (at least expected to be) large. They often have whiskers, and usually are not terribly, ignorantly young. But, hey, why bother with 'em? After all, what did bears ever do for you?

Well, actually, unless you are personally perfectly proportioned along the lines of a cross between Adonis and Hercules, bears have done a lot for you. (By the way, Hercules would almost surely qualify as a bear without the Adonian admixture!)

Once upon a time, in easy reach of memory, you had to fit the current mold of beachboy or clone or bodybuilder perfection to feel good about your body and yourself in gay bars. Granted, leather bars were less prescriptive about the definition of "hot men" than most other watering holes, but the allowances were pretty tightly circumscribed: Daddies were great, if they hadn't let themselves go too badly. Chubbies were tolerated, if they stayed out of the way, covered up, and quiet. And . . . that's about it.

Then, six or seven years ago as far as I (JWB) know, bears began to identify themselves as okay creatures. (Give a type a name and the men who fit it will discover what pride there is in wearing it.) Just as Daddies and Chubbies had discovered chasers, bears found that they had cubs, hunters, and lair-mates.

The difference between bears and other gay men without the Adonis touch, whether they were leather bears or pure Teddies, is that they didn't buy into any of the "don't get too into it" crap other men, including leathermen, were putting out. In fact, right away you could see that a self-identified bear was a free man. He didn't need anyone's approval to let go and be himself. It is a piece of anti-attitude that is more common than bellies or beards or back hair among bears. They like to be liked, but they don't need mainstream, gay, or leather community encouragement to celebrate their bodies, their desires, their sexuality, or their attractions.

This revolutionary idea — saying "I'm OK" without asking "Don't you think so?" — sets bears, cubs, and honorary bears (like JWB) apart from the rest of leatherdom's liberated factions. And this is where the question gets answered. What did bears ever do for you? They have unanimously and unconditionally voiced an emancipation proclamation for gay men who want it.

You may not find the emancipation declared by bears to be in full force at your neighborhood leather bar. Guys there may still wish you'd just disappear if your hair is punked-out or your clothes are gender-fuck. They may still look the other way if you want to wear hankies right and left, or if you think spandex is perfect under leather chaps and jacket. Your leather judges will get over it sooner or later, but your friendly neighborhood bears already know what you know: that freedom is just another word for "this is me, whether you like it or not."

In time the declaration of personal pride bears disseminate just by showing off their beariness without apology will reach the average gay bar. Earlier still, the average leather bar. But you can enjoy the portion of freedom bears have already won for themselves now. How? Give the bears in your neck of the woods a second glance, even a long and appreciative stare . . . a chance to show you the talents that come with their cuddly, fierce, powerful, sleepy, or just plain fuzzy bear bods.

So, you see, we can easily paraphrase an earlier liberator here: Ask not what bears have done for you, but ask what you can do for the bears. One answer is easy: put on a Bear Hug party for either any and all bears, or just for leatherbears. It'll be a fun-for-all thing either way, and you'll, and you'll meet some of the nicest animals in the woods.

Here's what Brian L. Gollum, a very lovely San Francisco bear, has to say about making a Bear Hug happen. Pardon his computer-ese, but this is straight off an electronic bulletin board.

Howdy!

So you wanna have a Hug, do ya? Well, it really isn't difficult to host one. However, you have to know where you want the Hug to go and what you want to have happen.

First you must decide if you want the Hug to be entirely social, or if you want it to "degenerate" into a grope-fest. For a social, just treat the Hug as you would any party. Invite your friends and have them invite theirs. Provide some munchies and/or mixers, but let everyone know that they should bring their beverages of choice, mixers, munchies, and anything else they might want to consume (a drug/no drug party is entirely up to the hosts and participants . . . I neither condemn nor condone drug use). Provide places to sit, stand, and socialize while remembering that both smoking and non-smoking bears should be taken into consideration. Keep a large open space available near the food and drinks since this will tend to be where much of the socializing takes place. Also, both indoor and outdoor areas should be provided, since bears in close proximity do tend to generate lots of heat, and an area for cooling down will be needed. All that's left to do is design some pedestrian invitations stressing that you are providing a space for bears (and admirers) to socialize and meet, and leave it at that.

Now, if you want the Hug to degenerate into a grope-fest, then you will need to provide a room with minimal furniture and a tarp and mattresses on the floor. This room should be warm enough to go without clothing and dark enough to be conducive to the planned activities without preventing people from seeing what they are doing. Also a copious supply of lubed and non-lubed condoms (and lube, perhaps) should be provided. You should also provide a secure space in which people can store any articles of clothing they might shed. Design invitations with lots of sexual innuendo and stress that clothing will be optional. Also having people circulate who start undressing the bears as they arrive will help. ("Hi! How are you. Here let me help you with your shirt buttons . . .") But make sure that if a bear says, "No, thanks," the undressing stops. (I spent a large portion of my first Hug re-buttoning my shirt after various helpful individuals had helped me unbutton it.)

If more interesting things are going to take place, make sure you tell people to bring their toys. Also, you should provide space away from the main social and grope areas to play in. This area should have places to tie people down (or up) plenty of room for backswing, and any other accessories (stocks, rack, cage, coffin — better have 2XL versions of some of these handy) the bears might want to use. A Dungeon Master should also be present to make sure the activities proceed safely, and to keep gawkers from crowding the play space.

Other things to do: invite a variety of bear-admirers and bears (there are lots of bears that don't like bears, and there are lots of admirers who aren't bears [oh, well . . . ; { }]) Insist on non-smoking areas.

Own a Piece of The DRUM... Or the Whole Damned Orchestra DRUMMER IS FOR SALE

Problems stemming from the October '89 earthquake are compounding and Desmodus, Inc. is experiencing severe cash flow problems. We are taking many cost cutting steps, but are in need of capital to continue producing magazines on schedule.

A loan of several thousand dollars could buy you a piece of a particular issue. A Hundred thousand dollars could buy a partnership in the company. Or, for a few times that, you could own the nation's premier Leather magazine, as well as Mach, FQ, the Mr. Drummer Contests, many associated names and titles, a huge reserve of back issues and a spectacular photo library.

DungeonMaster and the Sandmutopia Supply Co. are not for sale, unless, of course, someone makes an offer I cannot refuse.

Interested? Write me at PO Box 11314, San Francisco, CA 94101, or phone (415) 252-1195.

Insist that limits are respected. Insist that safer-sex procedures are adhered to, and play a variety of background music [not everyone likes "Oxygene," particularly the 27th time around : { }].

This is just a brief set of guidelines on setting up a Hug. If you want to know what a Bear Hug is, want additional pointers on setting up your own Hug, or need more detailed information about the set-up, running, and activities of the SF Bay Area Bear Hugs, then drop me a line and I will be more than happy to comply with your request.

Have fun, play safe, and enjoy your Hug.

There are a number of BBS's serving the bear community. PC Bear's Lair, (415) 572-9563, is a free-access system that does not charge usage fees (although donations are accepted). They are in their fourth year of operation, carrying both local and national boards. Another place to find e-bears is through Wally World, also a San Francisco board, at (415) 349-6969. The WELL (Whole Earth 'Lectronic Link) carries a LOT of newsgroups, including boards for gay and SM interests. Local carriers nationwide should be in directory listings.

If you're wondering what the #%!!@?! a : ) is, try turning the page sideways — no, the other way. The smiley-face was introduced into computer BBS's as a way of saying, "That's a joke, son." This kind of mark is important in a medium where you may "talk" to hundreds of people a day, and you may have no clue (expression, tone of voice,) as to whether they're serious, kidding, sarcastic, or what. E-bears appropriated the smiley-face and, of course, added facial hair: : { } is a moustached bear, and : { } > is a moustached-and-bearded bear. There are a number of variations, notably the wink ; { } and the frowny-face : (.

MALE CALL

NOT BY THE BOOK

I read Guy Baldwin's article (Ties that Bind, "Glass Houses," Drummer 135) with fascination. Last year I left the British navy after 23 years, and met a guy in the leather/SM scene. I thought that at last I was directing my life in the way I wanted it to go. I was very disappointed to find I had given up one set of restrictive rules and regulations for another set with the Leather community. The frustration has caused problems between me and my partner, and we have spent some time on our own to work things out. Having understood at last what has been causing the problems — and one of the things was my accepting this second set of rules — and realized what I must do to rectify them, it was a delight and confirmation to read Guy's article AFTERWARDS.

Thank you for Drummer magazine. We really need to keep expanding those horizons, and breaking down the self-imposed barriers.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LEATHER COMMUNITY

When I left home March 8 for the Mr. & Ms Southeast Leather Contest in Atlanta, I thought I was going to a contest based on looks and physique. I knew that mental attitude and communication skills were important, but I still felt I could win with my body alone. What I had not considered was the enormous responsibility that comes with the title of Mr. Southeast Leather. As the weekend events progressed I became aware that this was much more than partying and playing. This was also work!

I met a lot of beautiful, sensitive, caring people — people I had read and heard about. Suddenly these "famous" people in the leather community were treating me as a brother, son and confidant. I was amazed at the family atmosphere that is shared in the leather community. I was beginning to realize that something wonderful was happening around me.

Then the big event — the contest. Of course I was nervous since this was my first contest. I wanted to win but I was also aware that I very well might not win. It was during the contest that I began to have different feelings about myself. I no longer wanted to win the title for myself, but I wanted to win so I could use the title as a forum for becoming an activist in my own area.

I want to show the world that we can all live in harmony. I want to help with fundraising for AIDS projects and others less fortunate than myself. I realized that I want to make a difference!

Each of us has a responsibility to each other to do whatever we can, however small and insignificant we may feel that action to be. We must all become involved! We have a tough fight against AIDS, discrimination and prejudice, even within our own community. If we all contribute, together we can win!

I did not bring home the title of Mr. Southeast Leather, but I came home with something far more important to me at the present — a better understanding of myself and the love and friendship of some wonderful people. To those special people I send a sincere and heartfelt "Thank You" and hope that I can in return show that same love and friendship to others. Thanks to the leather community for helping me find myself. My life and especially my relationship with my lover are much richer as a result of the experiences of this weekend.

Bill Costomiris

2nd Runner-Up, Mr. Southeast Leather

MORE PROOF

Drummer is looking great! Thank you Sir. I would like to address a couple of things that keep coming up in Male Call.

First, a letter from CB in Indiana last month (See "Civilized, Artificial Pussy Bullshit," issue 137 — Ed.) said dumb things that may reflect his personality quite well, but certainly do not show good sense. As for cigars, (realizing our good editor smokes them), they stink, make a mess, and are sickening to most people. (Including Leathermen.) Those that find them pleasing in ANY way are a minority. It is rude to go out to a public place and offend their customers by smoking your big cigar. Except for a very few select individuals, nobody is going to relate to your cigar smoking as erotic, attractive, or masculine. The fact is you stink, you are stinking up someone else's establishment, and offending just about everybody that is out trying to have a good time. Indoors, a cigar smoker is as irritating as a pimple on a cowboy's ass. People don't realize how much smoke can effect others. When I go into a smokey bar for a few hours, it takes 3 to 5 days to get my eyes back to normal. While I do not expect people to quit smoking for the time I am in the bar, I do expect them not to blow smoke directly in my face. A big ugly slob used to come into the local leather bar here and always stand directly next to or in front of me and blow his cigar smoke in my face. He liked the fact that it bothered me. After repeated requests for him to stop, I finally cured him instantly. One night he came in and planted himself right next to me and started puffing. I watched him grin from ear to ear and then I struck out with the palm of my hand grinding that big fat cigar into his big fat face! This rude and obnoxious man doesn't bother me anymore! People who do not have filthy, stinky, health hazardous addictions do not and should not tolerate it in others who would inflict their weakness on them.

Next I would like to address those people that can't stand good looking men. It is nice to see both goodlooking, tanned, tops and bottoms in your magazine as well as average guys also. I can even tolerate the beer bellies, dark glasses, cigars and such. You do need to accommodate guys who get off on men that don't care about their bodies, don't want you to see into their eyes, and like to offend other people in order to get their dick hard. I am a handsome man and I am sick and tired of creeps making it sound like it is a crime for me to be goodlooking. If you look at the individuals who write that they want a fat, white, slimy, homely or raunchy sex partner, that is exactly what you will find. They think that physically ugly or unattractive guys are better in bed, because that is all they know. All they have ever had. With their ugly attitudes, that is all they will ever get! These bigots, that sneer at me or other guys because they are physically beautiful are only troubled by their own inadequacies and limitations. Pity them. Our editor Fledermaus is a good example that cigars and overweight do not have to be attached to rude and ugly people that hate beauty. I have seen him play with beautiful boys and homely ones and treat them with the same respect. It is their attitude that counts. Just as Fledermaus is beautiful from his charm, talents, and responsible considerate attitude.

If CB wants to smoke his "big, black cigar" in public bars, I suggest he not intrude on this boy's airspace or he will be wearing that cigar home. His attitude is like that of many self-proclaimed masters. They think that being ugly, self-indulgent, inconsiderate, and opinionated that they are a master. Not so! It is not a prerequisite to smell like a sewer, be arrogant, and have the body of a pregnant sow in order to be a hot leatherman. CB has a lot of growing to do before he'll ever get beyond that little "naugahyde" world he lives in. It's been said that "the bigger the bike, the smaller the cock." I haven't found this to be true, but in one way or another I think it is true "the bigger the cigar, the smaller they are."

Edward, San Diego

I think it's about time somebody spoke up for that abused minority, the handsome man. Lord knows, I'm about as ugly as a stick, but until I read your letter I hadn't even realized how bigoted I was, that it was sheer ugly prejudice that was keeping me from falling at the feet of handsome men like you and worshipping your tanned, athletic good looks. Well, action follows thought, and so my own Affirmative Action plan for the next year will be to find at least one tanned, physically beautiful specimen of masculinity, and no matter how much it pains me, no matter how repugnant I may find my own actions, I shall offer that man my own worshipful services. (All interested, extremely handsome, tanned, athletic men who would like to help me in this project may write me at Drummer, PO Box 11314, SF CA 94101-1314. Please mark your envelope "Personal.")

You didn't say much about what happened immediately after you ground the big ugly slob's cigar into his face. Did he break your jaw? Did it hurt? How long were you in traction? Did you require cosmetic surgery? How many stitches did you get? You must really be into medical scenes — because if you did something like that to me, I would definitely put you in the hospital.

JIM CVITANICH

The creator of San Francisco's MEN BEHIND BARS

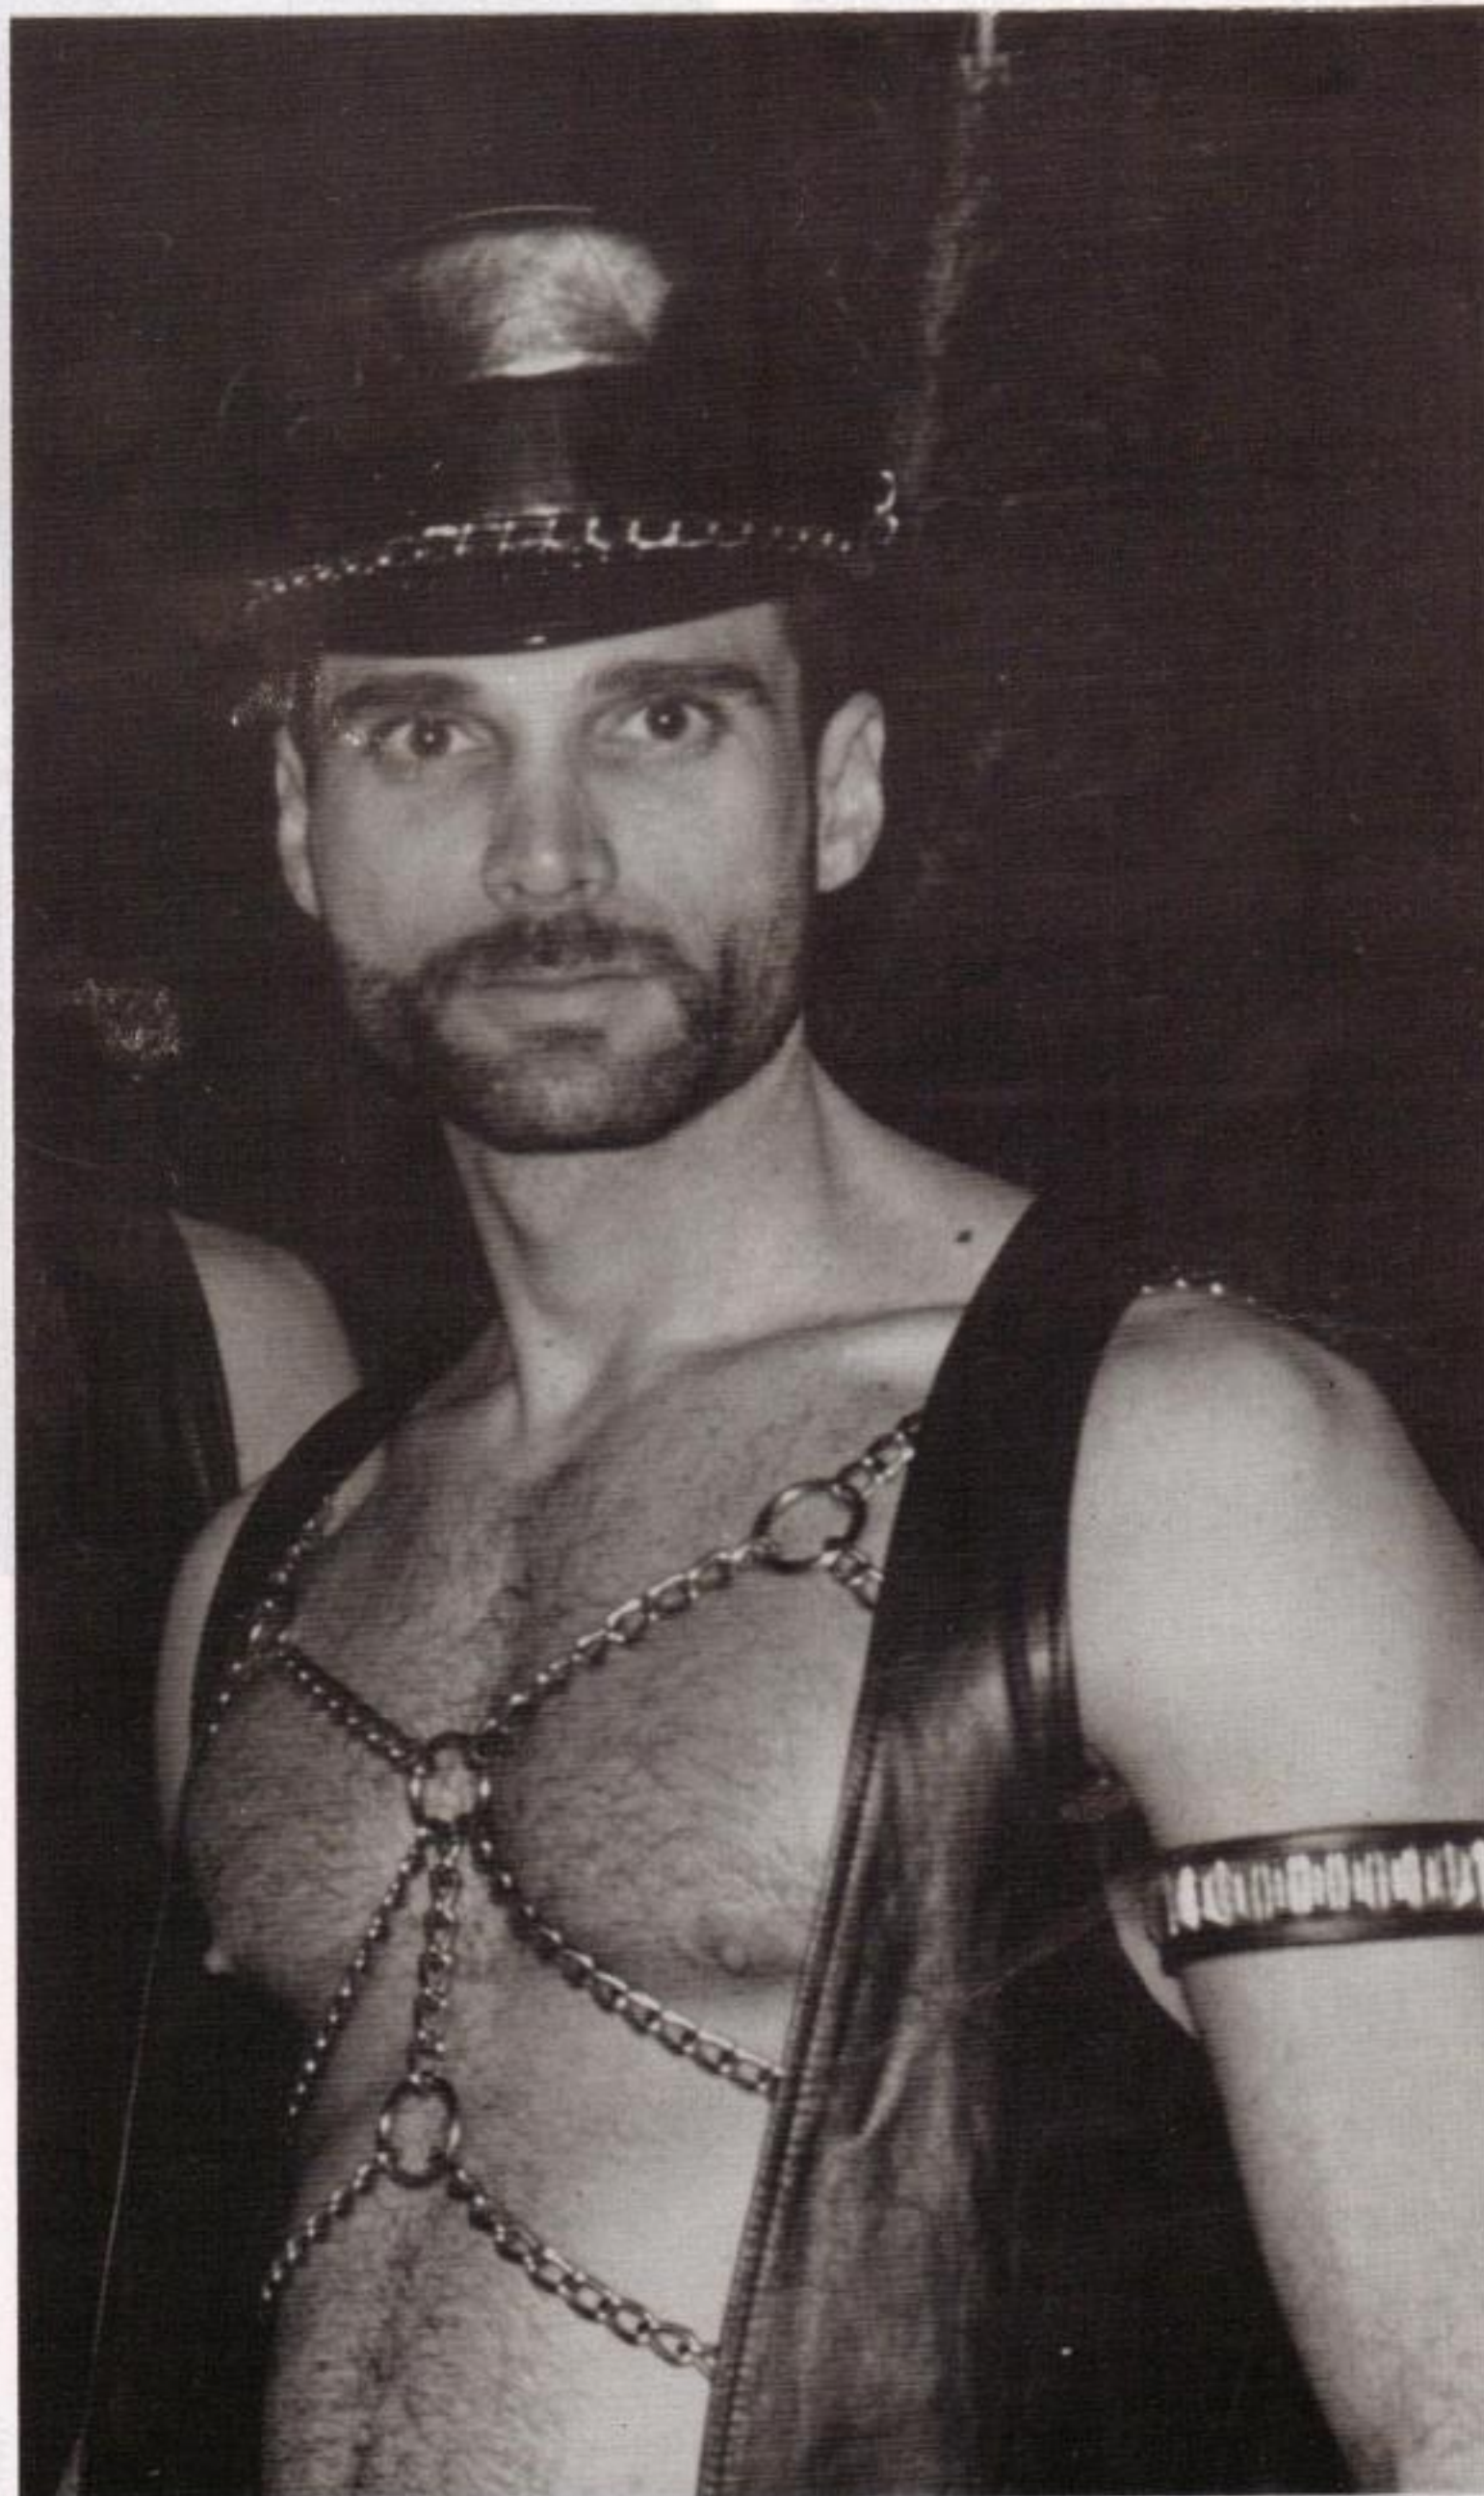

by Charles Linebarger

Gay bartenders putting on a benefit to raise money to fight AIDS. It's a simple idea, kind of like Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland getting the kids together to put on a show. But it took San Francisco bartender Jim Cvitanich—and something of a misunderstanding—to make it happen.

It started as an idea in the summer of 1983, just when AIDS was settling in to blight the decade. Cvitanich, a dark-haired actor who could sing and dance, was bartending at the Pilsner Inn, a bar that describes itself by its geographical location, "A Little South of Market." One night Bay Area Reporter's leather columnist, Mr. Marcus, came in. Cvitanich recalls mentioning casually to Marcus that it would be a great if the city's bartenders got together to produce a show, an AIDS benefit. "We thought we'd call it 'Men Behind Bars'. That was a take-off on 'Women Behind Bars', a popular spoof about women-in-prison movies that was touring downtown at the time."

"Anyway," recalls Cvitanich, "the following week I read in Marcus' column that Jim Cvitanich was putting on a show called 'Men Behind Bars' to benefit AIDS charities. Well, it kind of gave me the prodding I needed to do it."

The first MBB show, an all-bartenders effort, was presented in January, 1984. The fifth show was last February. Over the years the show has become increasingly professional and it has moved from the rundown, 500-seat Victoria Theatre to the much larger (1000-seat capacity) and grander Palace of Fine Arts. But what hasn't changed is Cvitanich's pivotal role in the production. He remains the producer, director, writer and creator of all MBB shows.

The first three 'Men Behind Bars' productions were put on by the city's bartenders. Cvitanich, who has always retained artistic control over the production, instituted open auditions for the last two shows. "It got to the point where so-and-so bar was responsible for doing a particular number, but if they didn't rehearse it, I couldn't let them go on the stage and screw up the whole event," he says.

Most of those who audition are used in some capacity in the shows. Seventy-five men auditioned for the Follies Men chorus line (MBB #5), and sixty were chosen to join the production. Says Cvitanich, "Some of us have been through all five shows, some of us who were in earlier shows have passed away, and some of us in this show are new. I did have one exception to the rule of requiring everyone to audition. I didn't ask anyone to audition for a role they had created in a previous show."

NUDE BODYBUILDERS ON STAGE

One of the show's hottest numbers in 1990 was "Drag Queen Heaven" where Nicole Dushey begins by singing about her long lost love and ends in a reverie about drag queen heaven. The curtains at the Palace of Fine Arts part at that point to reveal fog rolling across the stage (an MBB staple) and three nude bodybuilders, apparently tied to columns. One in particular was eye-catching, his face hidden behind a beefy arm, his body turned against the column so that his back was gleaming in the limelight. His huge thighs rising up spectacularly onto his full, rounded buttocks: A palpable sexuality throughout the scene.

"I would think that drag queen heaven would be like that," explains Cvitanich. "It would be fog and beautiful, naked men, and drag queens. I wanted to do beefcake that would work within the meaning of the different numbers. Here, I think, it did."

Describing the process by which these beautiful men were chosen, Cvitanich says, "There were some men I chose for the show for no other reason than that I knew they would look fabulous naked. And they did. But everyone, even the living statues as we called them, had to dance in the big 'battleship' number."

The battleship number was probably the high point of the show. (Editor's note: Some of us think of naked men tied to columns as a higher high point, of course.) It began with little Tim Garner, dragged out as former SF Mayor Dianne Feinstein, singing about the Battleship Missouri, which she unsuccessfully tried to get voters to approve for homeporting in the San Francisco Bay. "It's Just a Little Old Piss-ant Battleship . . ." Meantime, from behind, a huge, steel-gray battleship glides irresistibly toward her on an ocean of canned fog.

The battleship soon splits down the middle and is rolled off stage to reveal the Follies Men dressed in nothing but sailor pants (spandex bell bottoms!) and caps, singing the title tune.

"That was the first number I wrote for this show," says Cvitanich. "I thought, wouldn't it be great to have a battleship on stage, and we worked backwards from that. The music, of course, was from The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas. We just changed 'It's Just a Little Bitty Country Place' to 'It's Just a Little Piss-ant Battleship'."

LEATHER LOVE

Another number, "Love Rock and Roll Style," features dark-haired, black leather-clad "leader of the pack" Johnny (Carter Stevens) singing a medley of old rock tunes while coming on to Billy (Eric Brizee) who is squeezed into a pale blue polo shirt. In the background, their respective gangs—Johnny's leather pack and Billy's chi-chi friends—dance and provide the chorus.

Johnny and Billy get down and dirty as they sing a selection of rock songs to each other: Leader of the Pack; Baby, I Get Down on My Knees; and We've Lost That Lovin' Feeling. The audience got the point easily when Billy knelt in front of Johnny to sing "Baby, I'll get down on my knees if you'll love me like you loved me before . . ." Billy very sexily cups the big microphone up against his pouting lips, as he pleads with Johnny to love him like he loved him before.

The "Can-Can" number was also pretty sexy, but it didn't start out that way. In the beginning, the matrons of the Eureka Opera and Eurythmic Society came out in a kick-line wearing some of the most god-awful gowns in the history of drag, each sporting a pair of huge pink balloons pressed into service as 55 D-cup falsies. These girls did the can-can before they were joined by their boyfriends, the hunky Follies Men dressed in nothing but spandex. Almost immediately, the girls ripped the spandex off the men who had nothing on underneath . . . except jockstraps, of course.

Author's note: One girl got too carried away at the performance I attended and managed somehow to rip off not only the hunk's spandex outfit, but his jockstrap as well. At first, I thought it was a gag. It turned out it wasn't. Covering his naked crotch with his hand and fast turning red, he turned tail and ran off the stage. The only politic thing he could do at that point.

The "Can-Can" number allowed the Follies Men an opportunity to show off their assets, as they danced in groups, in pairs and single. Eric Brizee—Billy of 'Down on My Knees' mentioned above—deserves a special award as a living civic treasure. Or is it that Cvitanich deserves that special award for discovering and uncovering Brizee's assets?

The chorus performers, the Follies Men, no matter how attractive or physically charming, are not normally ready for an event like Men Behind Bars where they have to strip to next nothing, or to nothing, to entertain an audience. It requires some coaxing and hand holding to prepare some of these young men for their big moments on stage.

"The Follies Men always get very hyper and nervous about going out on stage nearly naked the first time," says Cvitanich. "You get all these titters when you explain to them that they end up dancing in a number on stage in this little colored piece of cloth that you can hold in one hand. But, by show time, you have a hard time getting them to keep their clothes on."

An element that Cvitanich has worked into MBB repeatedly is respect for those members of the gay community who are no longer in the category of "the young and beautiful," however beautiful we may find them and their contributions. "Bosom Buddies" was the 1990 entry in this category. It honored two well-known and greatly respected doyennes of the community: Jose Sarria (the Widow Norton) and Michele. The men—ladies!—wore matching gowns, though one was black and the other white—as they sang of their supposed, purported, and apparent three-decades-long rivalry. Both Jose and Michele were 'dressing up' and doing shows as long ago as the 1950s.

"At the closing performance," recalls Cvitanich, "Michele was so moved that in between encores he turned to me and said, 'Even though I have moved to New York, you San Franciscans are my bosom buddies.' And that kind of feeling is one of the things that makes a show like MBB work. Reaching across generations, across the diverse dividing lines of the community, and out into the friendly non-gay community as well, Cvitanich's "bartenders benefit" has become both a reflection of the way San Franciscans are and a reminder that there is something very valuable in the way we relate to one another.

Every time Men Behind Bars returns with a new production, the city is awed by the talent that is put on stage for just a few sold-out performances. And, every time, audiences go away saying, "They should do this every year!" The "they" here being Jim Cvitanich, of course.

Cvitanich responds by saying, "it's become an every other year show. I think that having two years off allows it to build up more in people's imaginations. As the stripper in Gypsy said, 'Make 'em beg for more, and don't give it to 'em.' Sometimes by holding back a little bit you create the anticipation for the next show."

Usually, after a successful MBB show closes, Cvitanich is quoted as saying there won't be another. No one ever believes that, no one wants to believe that. This year Cvitanich has put a slight twist on the rumor. He isn't saying "no more," but . . . "Whether the next show will be another Men Behind Bars production," he says, "I don't know. I have a lot of ideas in my notebook."

Unlike Men Behind Bars which is a fundraising model every city in the country could easily imitate successfully, Jim Cvitanich is a one of a kind, a leatherman who has found his unique way to comfort a community in crisis while helping individuals in need. We need more men like Cvitanich, but none of them will be exactly like him, ever, anywhere. □

LEATHER NOTEBOOK

By Larry Townsend

Sir,

I really don't know how to put all this down, but here goes. I'm 23, and somewhat into leather — pierced nipple, harness, armband, etc. I've also been a waiter in one of the two so-called leather bars in the area. I'm head-over-heels for a 21 year old boy, and I'd like us to grow up together, with me as Top and him as my "puppy." The main problem is that I have emotions for him, but his insecurities are holding him back. So, it's obvious I have to hold back until he comes around. But I can't sometimes, because I have the desire to find a Daddy for myself; and unfortunately in Detroit the chances are slim. I need a Daddy to teach me how to be a man, physically, mentally, and emotionally. I was told once that you can't be the best Top without being the bottom first. And I want to be the best Top for my boy. But then, again, if I have the right Daddy, and grow into the right kind of man, I might someday meet the right boy to serve me and want to do it. Bars aren't the answer, because there aren't any worth the name in Detroit, and personal ads are always full of lies. Can you offer me any help?

Ponyboy, Detroit, MI

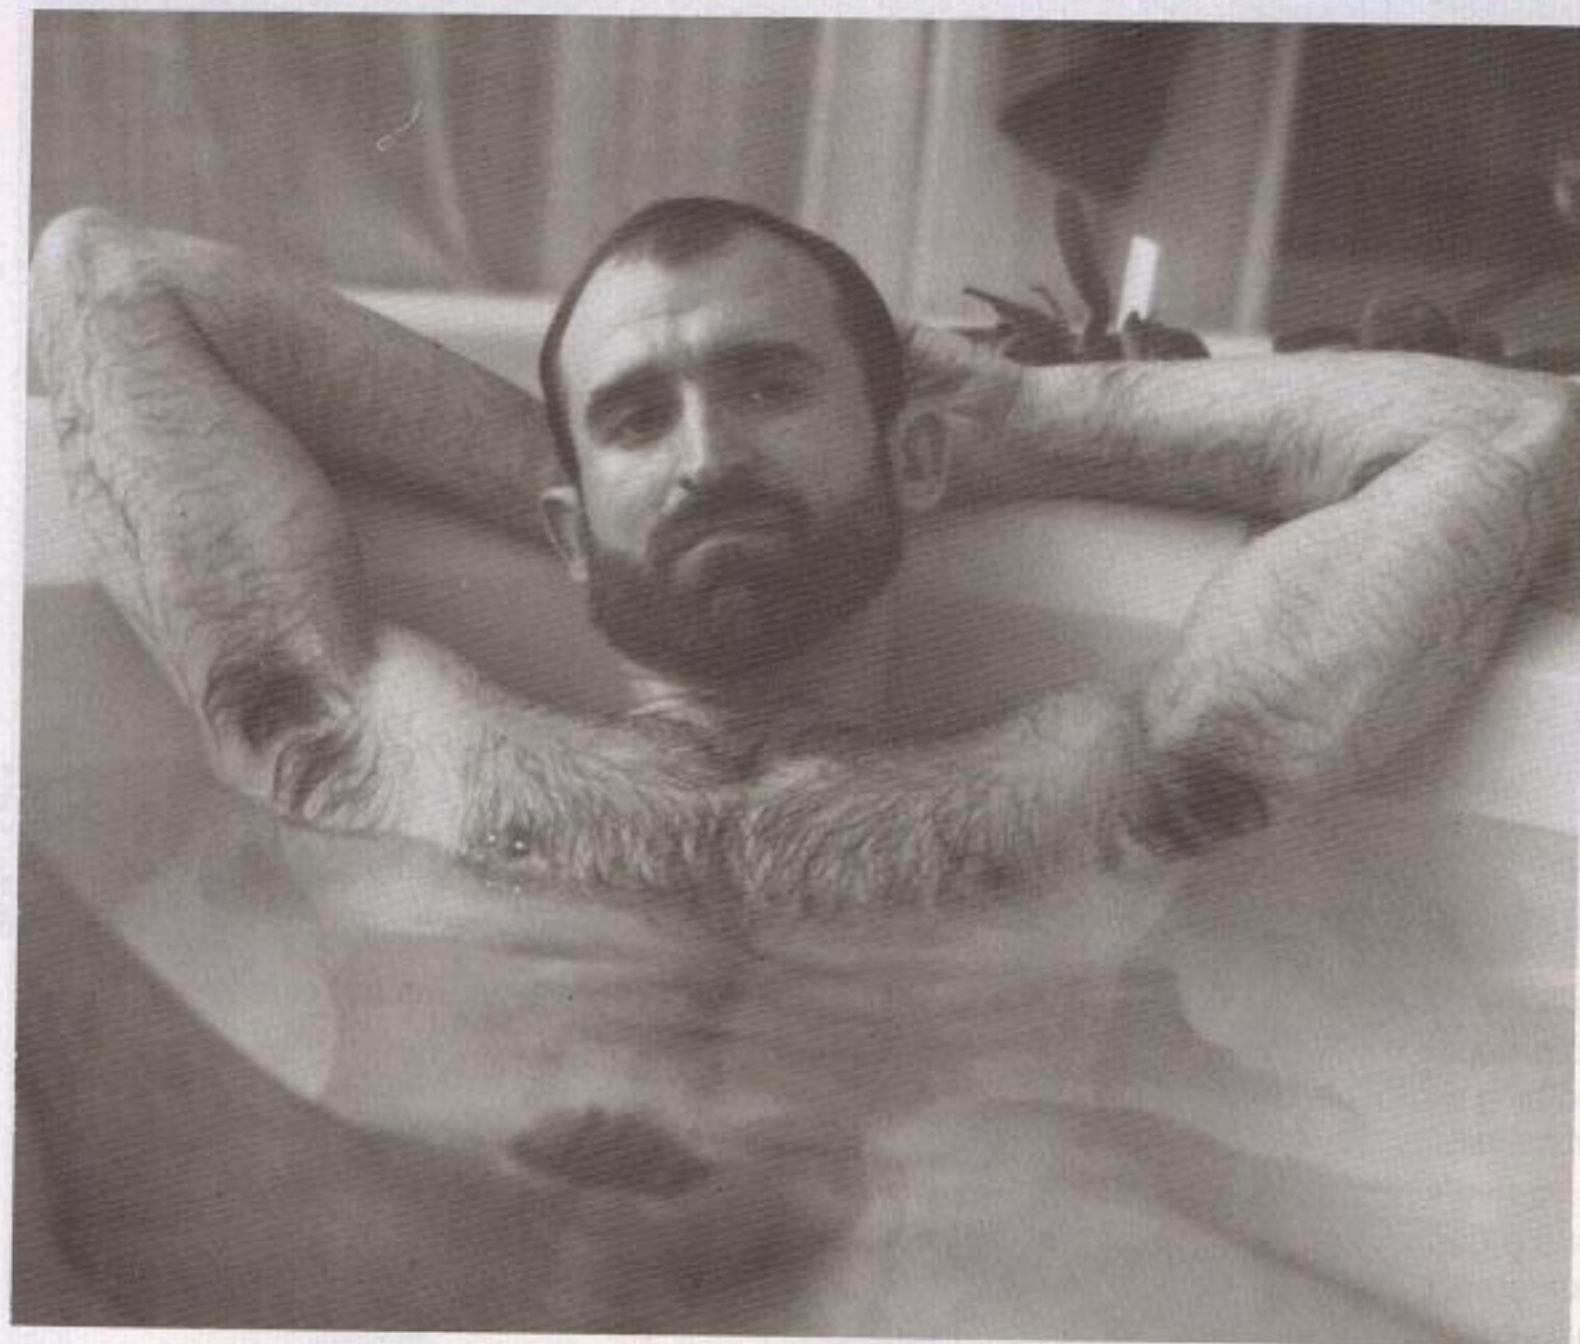

Dear Ponyboy,

You have more than one set of conflicts, as I see it, and the only way you are going to start resolving any of them is to try for a better grasp on your own reality. On the one hand, you want to be a Top, which is a role you are ill-equipped to handle. On the other, you want a Daddy to teach you the ropes, from which experience you might well benefit. In your opening phrases you imply an emotional involvement with your 21-year-old friend, and in the end you seem willing to forsake him with the hope of finding another young partner sometime in the future, when you are emotionally better-equipped to handle him.

On a purely academic level, I'd say your best bet is to find the Daddy (or Top or Master) and let him guide you toward a greater degree of maturity. From a practical standpoint this may not be possible, as you point out. But what about your feelings for the young man you already seem to love? You know, it is one of the great accidental triumphs in life to meet a person whom you can love, and who can love you in return. If you've really found him, don't throw away the opportunity. Stop being so selfish and try to adapt your needs to more closely mesh with his. Once the relationship is established it can evolve — gradually, perhaps — into something more attuned to your fantasies. You might even be able to bring in a third person at a future time — assuming you can find him — and let him play with both of you. In any event, you've got plenty of time for trial and error, and in the end that's the only way any of us make it through life.

Dear Mr. Townsend,

In a recent issue of Drummer you quote a letter from a slave who has to wear a cock harness which his Master puts on him every morning (although he takes it off again). Would you please describe the kind of harness meant, as I would be very interested in getting one for myself to present to my Master, and so have the pleasure of being made to wear it. And I wouldn't take it off again!

M.F., Hamburg, Germany

Dear M.F.,

My correspondent did not describe the harness he was supposed to wear, but I would expect it was probably a snap-on leather strap that went around the base of his cock and balls, probably with some sort of ball spreader or separator attached. There are any number of varieties on the market, even some that can be locked in place, or which have a waist harness in addition to the genital straps. I'd suggest you look over the available items in any of several shops in the Rapperbahn area, or get hold of a good mail order catalogue.

Dear Larry,

In response to your request for details from the arm-pit lovers, my Daddy and I have always had a great affection for each other's pits. When we met five years ago, after I fell for his handsome face, eyes, and lips, I recall being turned on next by snuggling up under his thick leather jacket, where his naked torso was dripping in sweat. Later, I spent the evening sleeping with my face buried in his big, delicious pit. Nothing in the world makes me feel more content and inspired than a good long whiff from my Daddy's underarm.

Now, he orders me to stop using deodorant a week or more before we meet for a scene. We then have two pacifiers for each other: our cocks and our over-head embraces. It takes about four days to work up a real sweet pit aroma and peter breath; alas, about the time our visits must come to an end. These are not stale smells we're talking about! Sweat is the essence of fresh and living manhood which our fastidious society forces us to mask. Though this practice does not seem to lend itself to organized clubs, as your reader inquired, I can see a role for groups in love with sweaty and dark, tender areas, without going into the hardcore realm of raunch, scat, and cheese. Even if you aren't into playing with the pit itself, Larry, haven't you ever judged a man by the pleasure of his body odor?

Bob, Austin, TX

Dear Bob,

Of course, the odor of the guy you are sizing up for a night's adventure is an important component of his positive or negative valence. Whatever part of him appeals to any of your senses is going to be determinant of your level of desire. Whatever blows your skirt, as they say. But I notice you turn thumbs down on raunch, scat, and cheese. You'd have lots of argument on either of the three scores, so who's to say who's right? Or is there a "right?" □

If you would like to have Larry Townsend address a particular problem or issue, you can write him c/o Leather Notebook, Drummer, PO Box 11314, San Francisco, CA 94101-1314.

FUN IN AN

WHEELER

by Jack Michaels

I had just finished eating a midnight breakfast in the "Chicken Deluxe" restaurant and had consumed more coffee than I ever care to remember, when the most rugged "Big Bear" trucker that I've ever seen came in. He swept the room with his eyes and I thought, "Wouldn't it be great if THIS sucker would cruise ME?"

Naturally, being interested in feet, I glanced down as casually as I could to observe the size of his shoes. Whew! He had whoppers!

Plenty of stools and where does he sit but right next to me.

He was a BIG daddy-type, from his red cap with the blue bill and "Top Gun" blazoned boldly across the front, to his chocolate-brown hiking boots. I noticed his big legs and thick calves. Weightlifter? Or experienced fucker? Hmmm. This guy was more my type the longer I looked at him. I was fantasizing what it would be like to run my tongue down his hairy legs and suck on those huge toes of his. (I could only HOPE he had hairy legs.) I only gazed at him occasionally; I didn't want him to think I was comin' on too fast.

Salt and pepper grey beard and hair. A little older than myself. Maybe forty-five. I like my "daddies" a little older than me. Just my type. He had beefy, hairy hands. Huge sausage fingers. You know what they say about big hands. I could only hope. I thought I would make the first move. My mouth was dry, my heart was pounding, and my voice was quivering when I spoke.

"Hi," I said. Great, bold beginning, right?

"Hi. Name's Jake." When he turned his gaze on me, it was like the steady, penetrating stare of a Leo. He thrust that big, beefy, hairy Bear's paw at me. His engulfed mine. He smiled broadly into my face. One of those smiles: it washes over you and captures you. You then become irrevocably His. "Buy you a cup of coffee?" he asked with a rich, husky voice filled to the brim with invitation. I was already enraptured in his presence. I think I'd have done ANYTHING he asked.

"Sure," I said. Even though my bladder was screaming "Coffee Overload!" and begging me to say "no," I heard myself say, "Yeah, sure. 'Preciate it."

I sipped on the coffee while he wolfed down a couple of burgers and fries. I watched him closely. He noticed, but didn't seem to mind. In fact, I'm sure it was turning him on. I watched those big, heavy forearms lift those fries and burgers and coffee till I was beginning to breathe heavily. Thick, chestnut hair you could have combed ran down his arms. I'd love to—No, I mustn't think about that.

We exchanged a few more details about each other and his last run from Denver to St. Louis.

The waitress kept trying to fill my cup. I finally said, "No more, thanks." My bladder was screaming, "You and me got some business to take care of, Bud. And I mean NOW, BOY!!"

I excused myself. I saw the sign at the end of the restaurant that said "Gentlemen" and found the john downstairs. I kept hoping he would follow. Man, I'd love to get that big boy. After draining my "Mister Lizard," and carefully returning him to my pants with a promise that I would try to get the big boy, I washed my hands and face, taking as much time as I could; still hoping he would show up.

Just then he strolled in and went straight to the urinal to the right of me. I wish I could describe the way this six-foot plus man swaggered confidently into the bathroom, but words fail me. Confident?? His stroll was damn dangerous. I saw out of the corner of my eye that he was standing back far enough that I had a full view of his cock. When he unravelled that dick, a big bushy tuft of dark hair followed. What would it be like to bury my face in all that hair? He had a huge, ripe, veined sausage. I could tell it was partially hard. I HAD gotten him excited! My heart was beginning to beat stronger. Maybe, I had a chance with the Big Boy, Jake.

He made sure that I saw it all. It was heavy with blood and he was playing with it before it started squirting long blasts of yellow gold. He took his time getting rid of all that coffee. I quickly joined him and pulled out my cock and pretended to be taking my piss now. By the time I pulled mine out, he had finished. He didn't put his well-hung dick away, but stood there staring at the wall and slowly pulling on his meat. I watched the corded muscles in his forearm flex as he pulled back and forth on his wang. It was beginning to stand up all by itself. It was a good eight inches so far. What was it going to become, besides becoming mine?

I kept watching. It kept growing and growing. I know he could tell I was watching. This big boy really was a big boy. I know it was a thick nine inches of hot meat now.

"Could I help you take care of that?" I said with a slight, trembling hesitation in my voice.

"Maybe," he said. "If," he paused, "you're a good boy." With that he wrangled that nearly erect cock and danced it back and forth till he managed to wrestle it back into those big blue jeans. What a beautiful, full box he had. Stuffed tight.

"Yes, sir," I said nervously. "I can be that."

I quickly followed, not wanting to lose contact. I was not quite quick enough. I momentarily lost him. Those big, thick legs could really move him around in a hurry. Then I spotted him heading for the truck parking lot. I followed. I had never been to any of the trucks. What the hell! You only live once,

Illustration by Domino

He was parked in the second row of trucks, five or six from the end. It was a dark-red Peterbilt truck with a reefer (refrigeration unit) on the back. It looked like he had parked for the night. There was no company emblem on the cab, which meant that it was his rig and that he was not just a hired driver.

I followed twenty to thirty feet behind him. He unlocked the driver's door and climbed in, leaving the door slightly kicked open. I knew this was an invitation for me to have a few more words with him. Just then he closed the door, turned off the cab lights, but then rolled down the window and looked down at me.

"Wanna come up here and sit on Daddy's lap, little boy?" He grinned a big Bear grin. Perfect, white "Tiger's" teeth. His voice was low and thick and hot.

"Yeah," I said. Damn. Why couldn't I get that quiver out of my voice? He noticed and chuckled. I almost had tears in my eyes. You know that feeling when you know you're going to get something that you at first thought was unattainable? That's how I felt.

"Go around to the other side, and I'll unlock the door. Watch your step," he said.

I walked around, climbed up and opened the door.

"Damn. That's a climb. I'll bet you have a hard time doing that in tight jeans," I said, closing the door behind me.

"I always make it worth their while," he said, grinning.

As I sat down, Jake flipped the cab lights on low. My heart nearly stopped. His hand was resting on a .45 lying between the seats.

"Oh, shit," I whispered.

"Don't worry," he said. "I just keep it for self-defense. So far I've never had to use it. But on the road, you never know what kind of guys you'll run into."

I was still speechless. He reached over and popped in some kind of "Torch and Twang" Country tape. I guess to help calm me down. He then put his hand on my leg, confirming it was okay.

"That's K. D. Laing. She sure can sing," he said. I had never heard of her.

I reached over and tried to cover the bulge in his pants with one hand, which was a hopeless attempt. I could feel the huge snake in his pants quivering under my palm. He didn't mind. This guy glowed with self-confidence. "Nice," I said. "What a box."

"Yeah, it's nice, ain't it? I still like givin' myself blow jobs ever' once in a while. Me and old 'Teddy' are all we got sometimes, you know? Care for a beer . . . or pop?" he said.

"Yeah. Why not? A beer," I said with a little more ease in my voice.

Jake stood up and crawled through the opening into the sleeper compartment. "Come on up," he said as he turned on the color TV. "If you want to take your boots off down there, it'll be easier. And more fun." He stuck his tongue out and growled. I think the guy had a built-in sub-woofer in that golden, bearded throat of his.

"We're gonna get along just fine, boy. Just fine." He was breathing heavy again.

"By the way," he said. "If you're into 'clean,' I can tell you this: I took a shower right before I ate at that 'dive' back there. Clean feet; clean butt; clean dick. Soapy clean, ya' know?" As I climbed up into the bunk, he was peeling off his shirt. He had a bear's chest. Completely covered with smoky, curls of hair that ran wild all over his barrel chest. It was so hairy that his nipples were lost in there somewhere; you couldn't see them. He had a little bit of an overhanging pot. I could eat him alive. All that hair.

"Boy, there's more room in one of these sleepers than I thought," I said. Never had been in one before.

He reached over and closed the drapes. He left the dim overhead light on. I was glad for that. I wanted to see it all. As he leaned away from me, I saw his back. Whoa!! It was thickly coated with huge masses of black hair. A great pattern ran all over his broad, muscular back. "Man, if your butt is anywhere near as hairy as your back, I'm gonna pass out." I couldn't resist the temptation to run my hands all over that pretty back. I could feel it bristle like little wires under my touch.

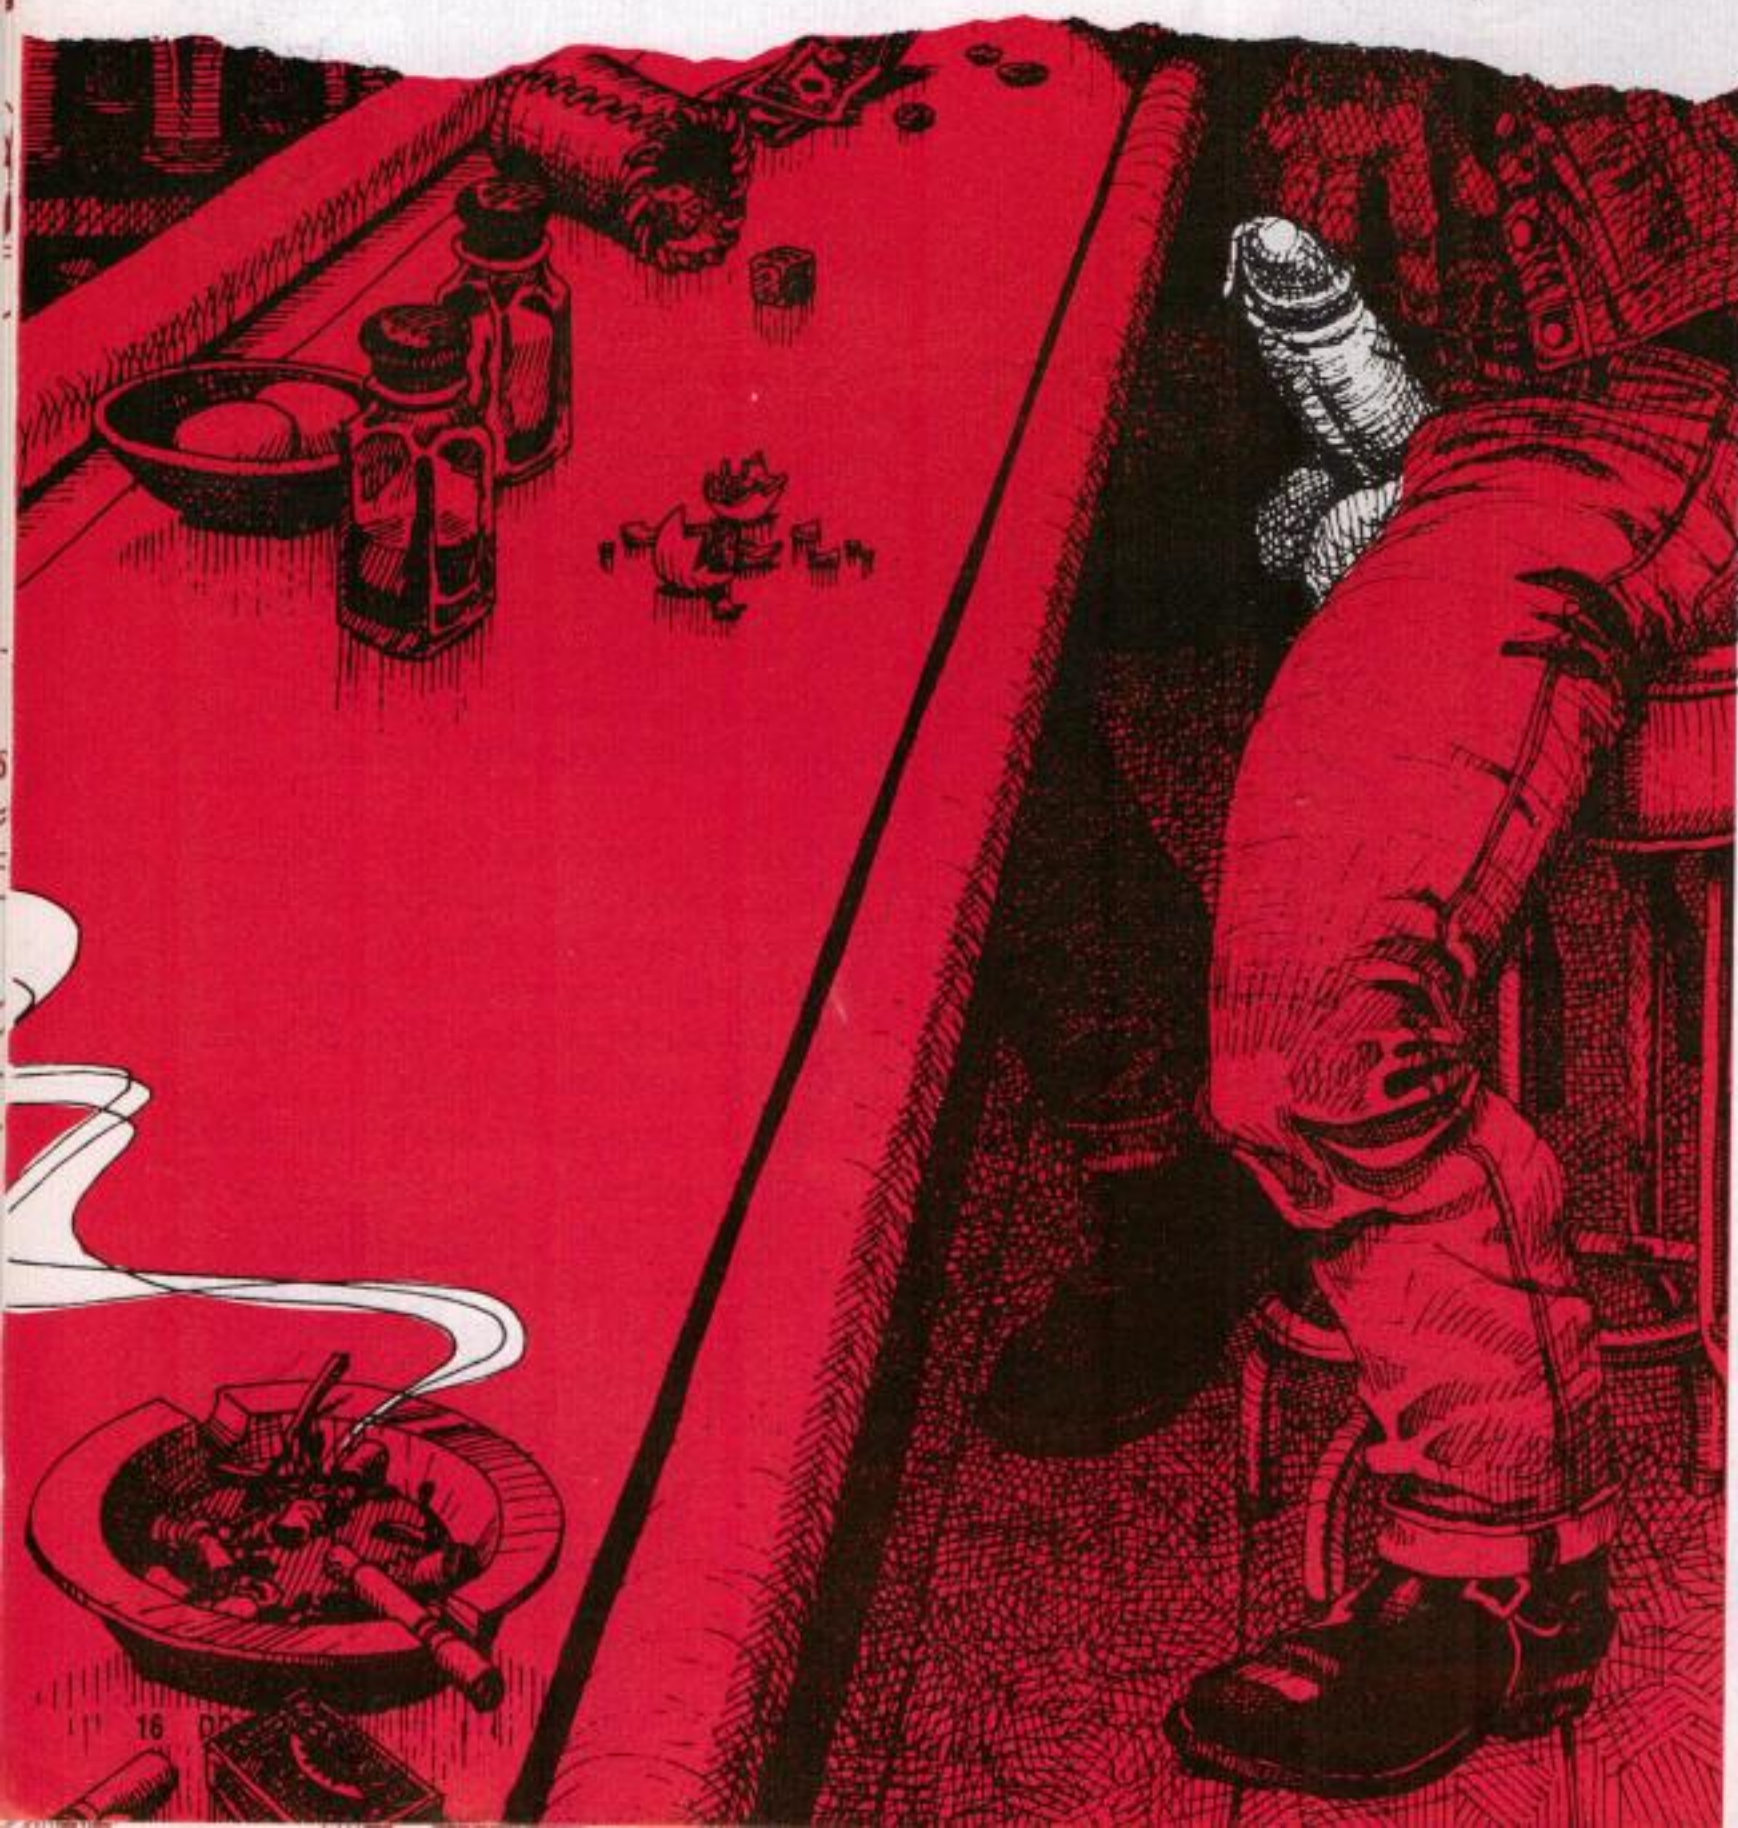

"Looks like I'm gonna have to get the smelly salts out again." Never missed a beat in his concentration. "There. That's a little better," he said. As he laid back down near me, he put his hand on my crotch. "Why don't you slip those pants off, and I'll do the same." I raised up to take my pants off and cracked my head on the ceiling.

"Ow! I guess this sleeper's not as roomy as I thought," I said, rubbing the top of my head.

"You'll get used to it after a couple of bumps like that," Jake said with a little touch of devilment in his voice. We both were down to our boxer shorts. He reached over and suddenly started groping all over me. He was growling in my ear like a big cat. He was also snuffling with his tongue at my earlobes. In short, he was makin' me crazy. His hands felt good running all over my body. Big, strong hands that were not to be resisted. I moaned. At the same time, I started running my hands through his hairy chest.

"That sure is a handsome chest you have. Bears really turn me on," I said.

"Yeah, well, I gathered that, kid. That ain't a bad piece of meat you have there, either," he said, taking my shorts off a little roughly.

He nearly ripped them. He wasted no time getting his lips to my cock. His warm mouth felt so good enveloping my dick. He was growling as he was going down on the dick. Mister Lizard was so hard he was about to explode. I was rubbing his back as he was gulping down my meat, occasionally gnawing on it. I could feel his beard as he buried it deeper and deeper between my legs. His breath was hot between my thighs. He went down on all seven inches of it and was even taking my nuts into his mouth at the same time. Man, he was really hot! And all this without hurting me at all.

He was really chowing down on my dick. He was growling and moaning as he sucked and moved his head up and down my cock. It's for sure this was not the first cock he had ever sucked. He knew what he knew!

Jake still had his boxer shorts on. He reached over into a little cabinet and pulled out a tube of K-Y. "Here, put some of this lube on," he said.

I started to put it on my ass thinking I was going to get fucked by Big Boy. "No! Put that on your cock and then some on my ass." His bushy eyebrows were creased in mock anger as if the thought of him fucking me was the most ridiculous idea in the world. He pulled his shorts off.

I still couldn't help but admire his body. Here he had this huge engorged mega-dick, and he probably wasn't even going to let me suck it off. This big, butch Bear gets off gettin' his butt fucked.

I did as he said. Jake rolled over on his side. From this point, I needed no more coaxing. My cock was throbbing hard, and I only had to stroke it a couple of times and it was ready for "Penetration Time." He didn't look like he had the tightest ass I ever fucked, but it was huge and hairy and I was ready to drive it home. It was coated with a rich, matted pattern of hair. I felt the whole cab shift as I nearly swooned. I ran my hands over the big, round, soft, hairy ass. Like velvet. I sighed.

"Here. Wait," he said. And I was so close. "Here." He handed me two packaged rubbers.

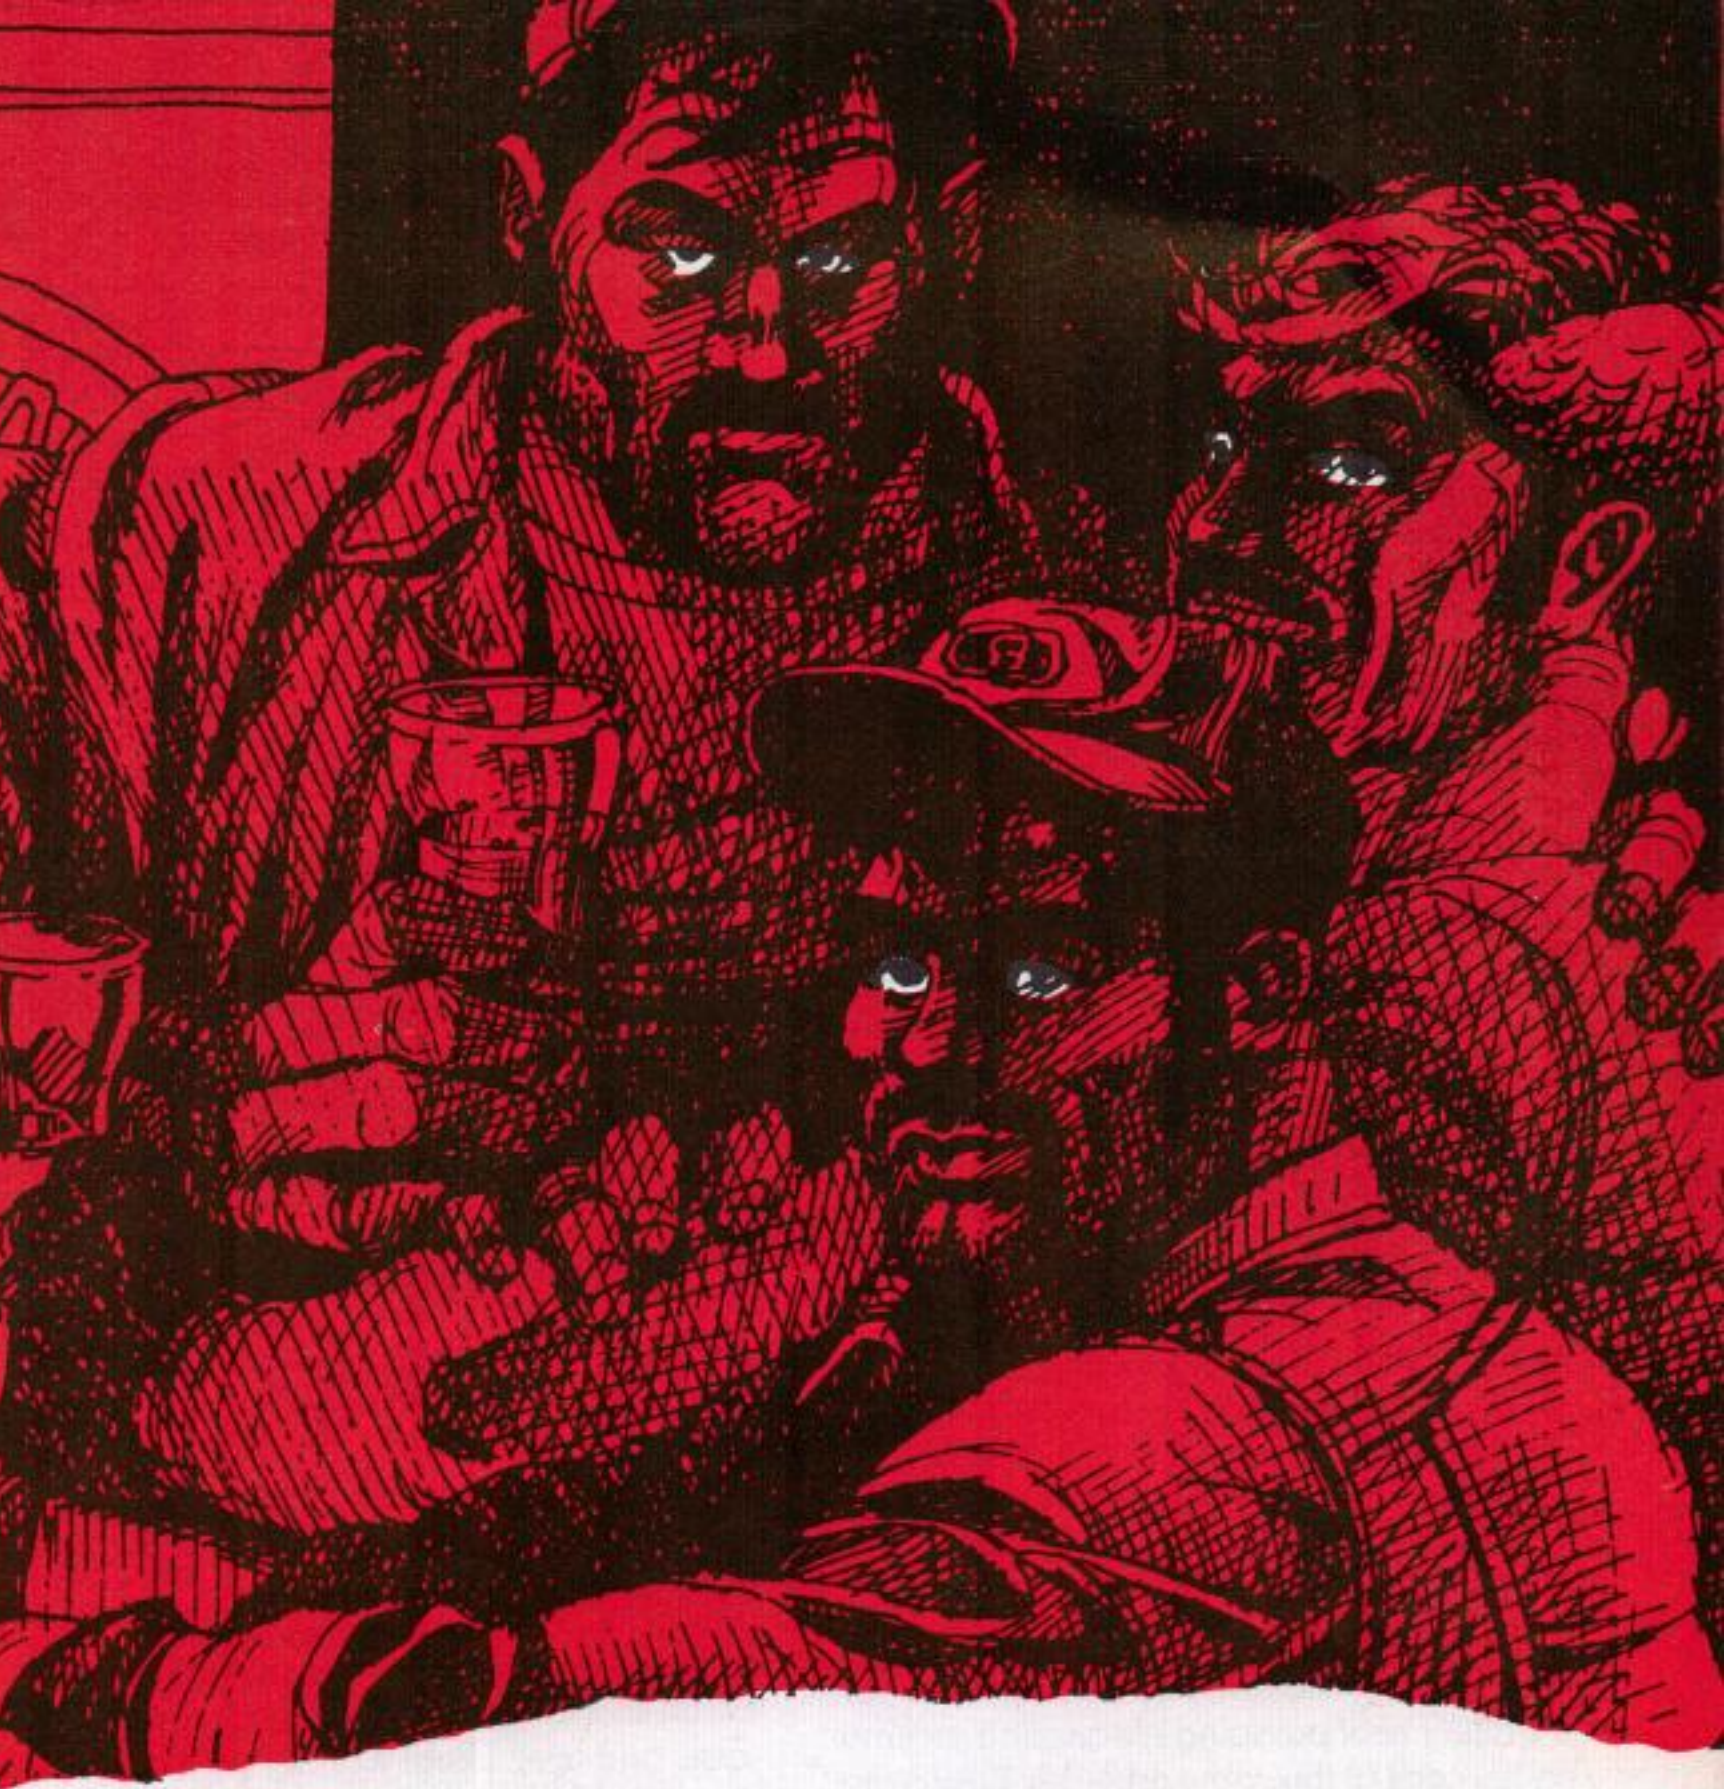

"Both of them?" I asked.

"That's right. My old lady wouldn't understand if I got a bad disease when she thinks I'm only rockin' the bed with her, now would she?"

As you can imagine, I took as little time as possible slipping the rubbers on, one over the other. Then, I started to gently ease the swollen head of my cock into his ass.

"Don't do it that way, guy. I want to feel it rammed in me. That sweet, hairy asshole is big enough to swallow that rod of yours alive. Ram it in!"

I did. It felt so sweet jamming my dick into this incredibly sexy man's hairy ass. I had barely penetrated his bushy tail when he backed up on the cock; sort of gulping it into his hole. I could feel my hairy nuts resting on his ass.

"I'm gonna tell you something now, man, and I'm gonna tell you only once, so you better listen real good unless you want the fuckin' shit beat outta you." He was scaring me now. I was listening. He went on. "I wanna get fucked rough, dig? I mean, I want my fuckin' brains fucked out, you dig? If you can't deliver, you better run. I'm always the one that does the fuckin'— but this time I want to get it and get it good. You're gonna introduce me to the man's game of gettin' fucked. I'm real horny right now, okay? You along for the ride?" I breathed a rattled yes. "Then, baby, fuck that ass. And I mean fuck it hard!" he said in a low, husky voice. "Ram that hard dick in me. And I mean, ram it hard. You'd better give me a good ride or I might fuck you up real bad."

"Yes sir," I said. I never met a Top who wanted to get fucked this badly before. Ever. But, then, why shouldn't a Top enjoy the same things a bottom enjoys once in a while? I'd have to make full use of my measly seven inches to rock his ass real good the way he wanted it.

I started pumping his ass hard. They were long, hard thrusts; making the most of my seven-incher. I was banging my nuts hard on his hunching ass. I watched in ecstasy as my dick slid in and out of that cherry hole. I could smell the clean, erotic scent of soap rising off of his Gorilla-back. This just got me more excited.

I know these trucks are supposed to weigh in the tons, but I could still swear to this day that I was pumping his butt so hard that I was shaking the cab.

He couldn't get enough. He was moaning in that low rumble of his. His head was resting against the side of the cab, and I was pumping so hard that his head was banging the wall. He seemed to love it. He kept crying that it wasn't hard enough. "Harder," he said. "Harder, boy. You're starting to piss me off. Don't stop man. Fuck that ass! Fuck me hard, baby. Hurt me if you can." Jake commanded. "Grab my sides and grip tight so you can fuck me harder." I did. "Grab those love handles tighter, man. Send me through the FUCKING CEILING!" I did. "Yeah," he sighed. "I can almost feel that. Now make this eighteen-wheeler tumble, fucker."

As strong as I was, all 190 pounds, I didn't think I COULD fuck him harder. Normally I can fuck for hours without cummin'. I wondered how much he could take. The clean aroma of his soapy body beginning to sweat beneath me was driving me harder and harder. I thought I was gonna tear his ass up.

I reached around and grabbed hold of his cock. What a thick, sweet dick that man had. It was hard as a brickbat and nearly as big.

Hot with blood to the touch. That nearly shot me over the threshold. I wanted to suck it so-o-o bad, but I knew this daddy would beat my ass if I didn't fuck his brains out. I could tell by the feel of the thick dick, because it was as hard as a blue steel pole, that he was about ready to slam his load against the cab wall. Not me, though. I could ride this Bear a while. I kept pumping his ass and jacking on his cock at the same time. My hand running the length of his huge dick and slamming against his big, furry nuts was driving me wild!!

"Fuck that ass harder, boy. And I mean, harder! I'm cummin'," he said, between heavy pants. "Ohhh, shit, I'm cummin'!!"

"Go ahead, man. Let it shoot all down my hand," I said.

"Man, you're really gonna get my load," he said. I pounded him hard and hard and hard as his pre-orgasm pushed him over the threshold. He started moaning, almost crying, as his rod let fly that wad. In my hands, I could feel the fluid pumping up and then saw it splatter white and wet against the side of the cab at least three or four times before it began to actually flow down my left hand.

He really shot a few loads. All of a sudden, I could feel a second orgasm rising in him and he shot again. He started moaning like a puppy as it flowed down my hand again. I couldn't believe it! I guess he liked getting fucked. As he rode the orgasm down, he started laughing real loud. I guess he just couldn't hold it. I never stopped pounding that hairy ass for a second; I didn't miss a stroke. He was still letting me pound his head against the side of the cab. Sweat was beaded all over his forehead.

"You keep fuckin' that ass, boy. I wanna be the one to feel the hot load in those rubbers in my ass for a change. Don't stop. Ram me harder if you got the strength. You ain't a pussy, are ya?"

"No, sir, I ain't," I said as I tried to pound his head through the fucking wall. I was grunting like a rutting bull. I couldn't get enough.

He would moan soothingly and whimper as he shot load after load, and I pumped him over and over. I kept wondering if he would ever stop. My hand was completely covered. He was humping my dick the whole time he was cumming. Crying out and shoving his ass onto my throbbing dick. I thought I was going to die. To this day, that was the sweetest piece of ass I ever humped. And to this day, I never met a bigger or hairier ass, either.

"Okay, Big Jake, I'm gettin' close," I said. My breath was beginning to come in shorter and shorter gasps.

"Show me what you can do, pussy. I can't even feel you now," he said.

I could feel the whole cab shift and swirl. I knew the next thing was that my senses would heighten to the point that everything would become extremely outlined and colorful and scentful. I grabbed his sides tighter, and I heard him whimper which only spurred me on. I grabbed tighter and fucked and pushed and thrust and roared as I shot my load. As the orgasm body-slammed me, I could smell the sweat and see it running down his hairy hide in little rivers. I was watching my own dick furiously pump his ass with each powerful punch. I plunged over that sweet cliff and shouted as I rocked him.

"C'mon, boy. Pump that cum. I like it." His voice had a distant, otherworldly quality to it. All I could think of was bangin' that hairy hole with everything I had. I must've pumped my load in him with twenty or thirty thrusts and still I wasn't stoppin'. I rode the orgasm down like a fool, not giving in easily. I kept my softening cock in for awhile, then slowly pulled it out and watched as my head puckered out that huge, hairy, sweet hole.

"Ah, that was nice," he said. "Best time I ever had, I swear."

We lay there for a few minutes catching our breath. "Man," I said.

He laughed. "I'm lucky if I get to jack off once a week. And for sure, it's not easy to find someone to fuck me."

"I'd fuck you every day if you were in town, baby. Anytime, anywhere, anyway."

With that he rolled over and tossed me a towel to clean up with, and got another for himself. "Not bad for a quick fuck. Wanna stay all night?" he said with a very satisfied, very sweaty, smile.

"Wish I could," I said. "But I need to get home. I guess I could stay for a little while longer, but not all night."

With that he reached over and started jacking on my still semi-hard cock. "Can you get that thing up and off again?"

"Yeah, I guess," I said. "But it will take a few minutes before it recovers. Not as young as I used to be, eh?"

"That's okay," he said. I could feel the heat of his breath on my neck; smell that sweaty/soapy aroma. That brass-rumble of his really annihilated me. Such sweet power in a voice. "I don't mind waitin'," he said. "It... WILL... be... worth... it."

I reached over and ran my hands across his hairy chest once more. "If anything will get this dick of mine back up, this will. What a Daddy Bear you are, fucker. A good, thick hairy chest really makes me hot."

"You admired my feet before," he said, smiling.

"Yes, sir," I said, licking my lips.

"What would you like to do with them? I mean, really do with them?"

"Jake, what I would really like to do with them is lick 'em and suck 'em dry."

"I'll tell ya' what. I'll let you do your favorite thing, and you let me do one of mine, okay?"

"Anything you say."

I scooted down by his feet and began licking his ankles. Didn't this guy have anything physically wrong with him? I mean, his feet were black with little ringlets of hair that ran down over their tops and spread over his toes. This guy was a fuckin' Hobbit!

I was a master at this game, so I was in control here. My territory! I slowly ran my beard over his feet and purred as I licked his extremely hairy legs.

"That's good, boy," I heard him say at the same time that he began stroking my legs. Amply hairy, but not like his.

I concentrated, or tried to concentrate, on what I was doing. I slowly made my way down to the arches of his huge feet. His toes were so thick, perfectly chubby. Just like I like 'em.

"How big are these fuckers, Jake?"

"Size thirteens, baby. And boy are they sensitive. They like what you're doin' to 'em right now. Ummmm, that feels real good. Keep it up, boy."

I had no intention of stopping. I went to the other ankle and began doing the same thing all over again. Before I got to the toes, I went back and put my full attention on the other foot. I ran my beard over the toes on his right foot. I heard him moaning behind me. He was circling my balls with both hands. "You got some furry low-hangers, boy," he said. I ignored him. I now came to my favorite part. At a painfully slow pace, I engulfed his big toe (and his big toe was a big toe) with my mouth. As I did, I could feel the body heat of my mouth warming it. I ran my tongue over the mass of hair, constantly keeping my tongue moving as I drew more and more of this big toe into my mouth. I could again smell soap. His feet were squeaky clean. I was just warming them up.

He was beginning to lightly pull on my lengthening cock. I was becoming aroused. This spurred me on to leave off of the big toe and suck on the other four toes on this foot. Don't matter too much how big the feet, I've always been able to get all the other four into my hungry mouth. As I sucked hard on his toes, I ran my tongue between his toes one at a time. He moaned and told me how sweet that felt. At this point, I was the one who was totally self-confident. This is my thing, my favorite thing to do. You betcha! I now began to do the same thing on his other foot.

"C'mere, boy. Let me show you something," he said.

"Yeah," I said.

"Sit on my chest. Way up high like this. High on my chest. Yeah, like that." He then did the most peculiar thing. I didn't think this was possible. He flipped both feet and rested them on either side of my shoulders. "Now," he said, "take your pick."

"Wow! I never did this before." I grabbed both feet with my hands and began sucking on the toe of his left foot while holding it firmly with my hand. While I was doing that, he was jacking on my cock real slow.

"I like to jack off boys on my chest," he said.

"Well, if I get to suck on your toes while you're jacking me off, I can tell you I'm gonna get my nut off in a big way. You're gonna be covered with the stuff," I said.

"Good. Shoot it all over me. I like hot cum splatterin' all over me. You just have a good ol' time, boy."

I did, too. As I felt my orgasm beginning to rise, I really got into sucking his toes. Right before I came, I switched to his big toe again and really concentrated on feeling everything about it. I knew I was close to cumming. I felt the big toe flexing in my mouth as he wriggled it playfully. I consciously felt the texture of that chubby toe in my mouth. The thick, big toenail playing on the roof of my mouth. The chubby bottom of the toe resting on my searching tongue. I could feel my orgasm coming. I started to pant and moan. I really felt the bristly hair on top of his toe as I approached that pounding border again. I sucked real hard and made sure I was very conscious of what it was I was sucking on as I began to really breathe heavy. I could feel the cum ready to explode. I moaned once real loud.

"Yeah, c'mon, man. Shoot me real good in the face. I want the whole load in my beard, drippin' cum." I let him have it. I gripped both feet real hard as I once again fell over that cliff. I sucked and nibbled as my cum showered him. I was rocking back and forth on his chest, pumping my dripping dick into his hand.

"Yeah, c'mon, man. Yeah, get my beard all drippin' wet. Yeah, give me that white gold. Oh, yeah."

I still sucked his toe as I came down from that high. Finally, when I could almost not bear to let go of that beautiful toe, I did anyway. "Man, I ain't never done that before," I said. "I never even thought that was really possible. Whoa!! I ain't never gonna forget that one." I watched him mopping cum off that pretty salt and pepper beard.

"Well, I don't always hafta get off to get off, if you know what I mean? I like jackin' a boy's dick all over my face. 'Course ya gotta close your eyes, though. Protein in the eyes stings like a motherfucker. Like a motherfucker!! But, I do love feelin' it squirtin' in my beard and on my face, though. Rich stuff. Wow, that was hot, son. Thanks for a bitchin' time."

We must have laid there for another twenty minutes, trying to get some of our strength back. I started putting on my boxers and pants. "Sure you can't stay for another round," he said, still with that appetite unfulfilled.

"Only if I wanted to be admitted to a hospital. Shit, man, don't you ever get enough?" He laughed and shook his head vigorously. "I never saw an appetite like yours. You're gonna do me in, fucker. I gotta be going. It's almost two in the morning." I slipped down into the cab and started putting on my boots. "Do you come through here often?"

He replied sadly. "Yeah, every month or so. But I don't usually get to connect up with anyone after I been with 'em once."

"That doesn't make any fuckin' sense. I'd hump your ass every day whether you needed it or not." I laughed.

"Maybe you see somethin' other people don't, babe." He flashed those pearly whites.

"Maybe I do. I like you lots," I said. "You got the sweetest ass I ever humped. Would you like my phone number so you could call me the next time you're in town?" I asked.

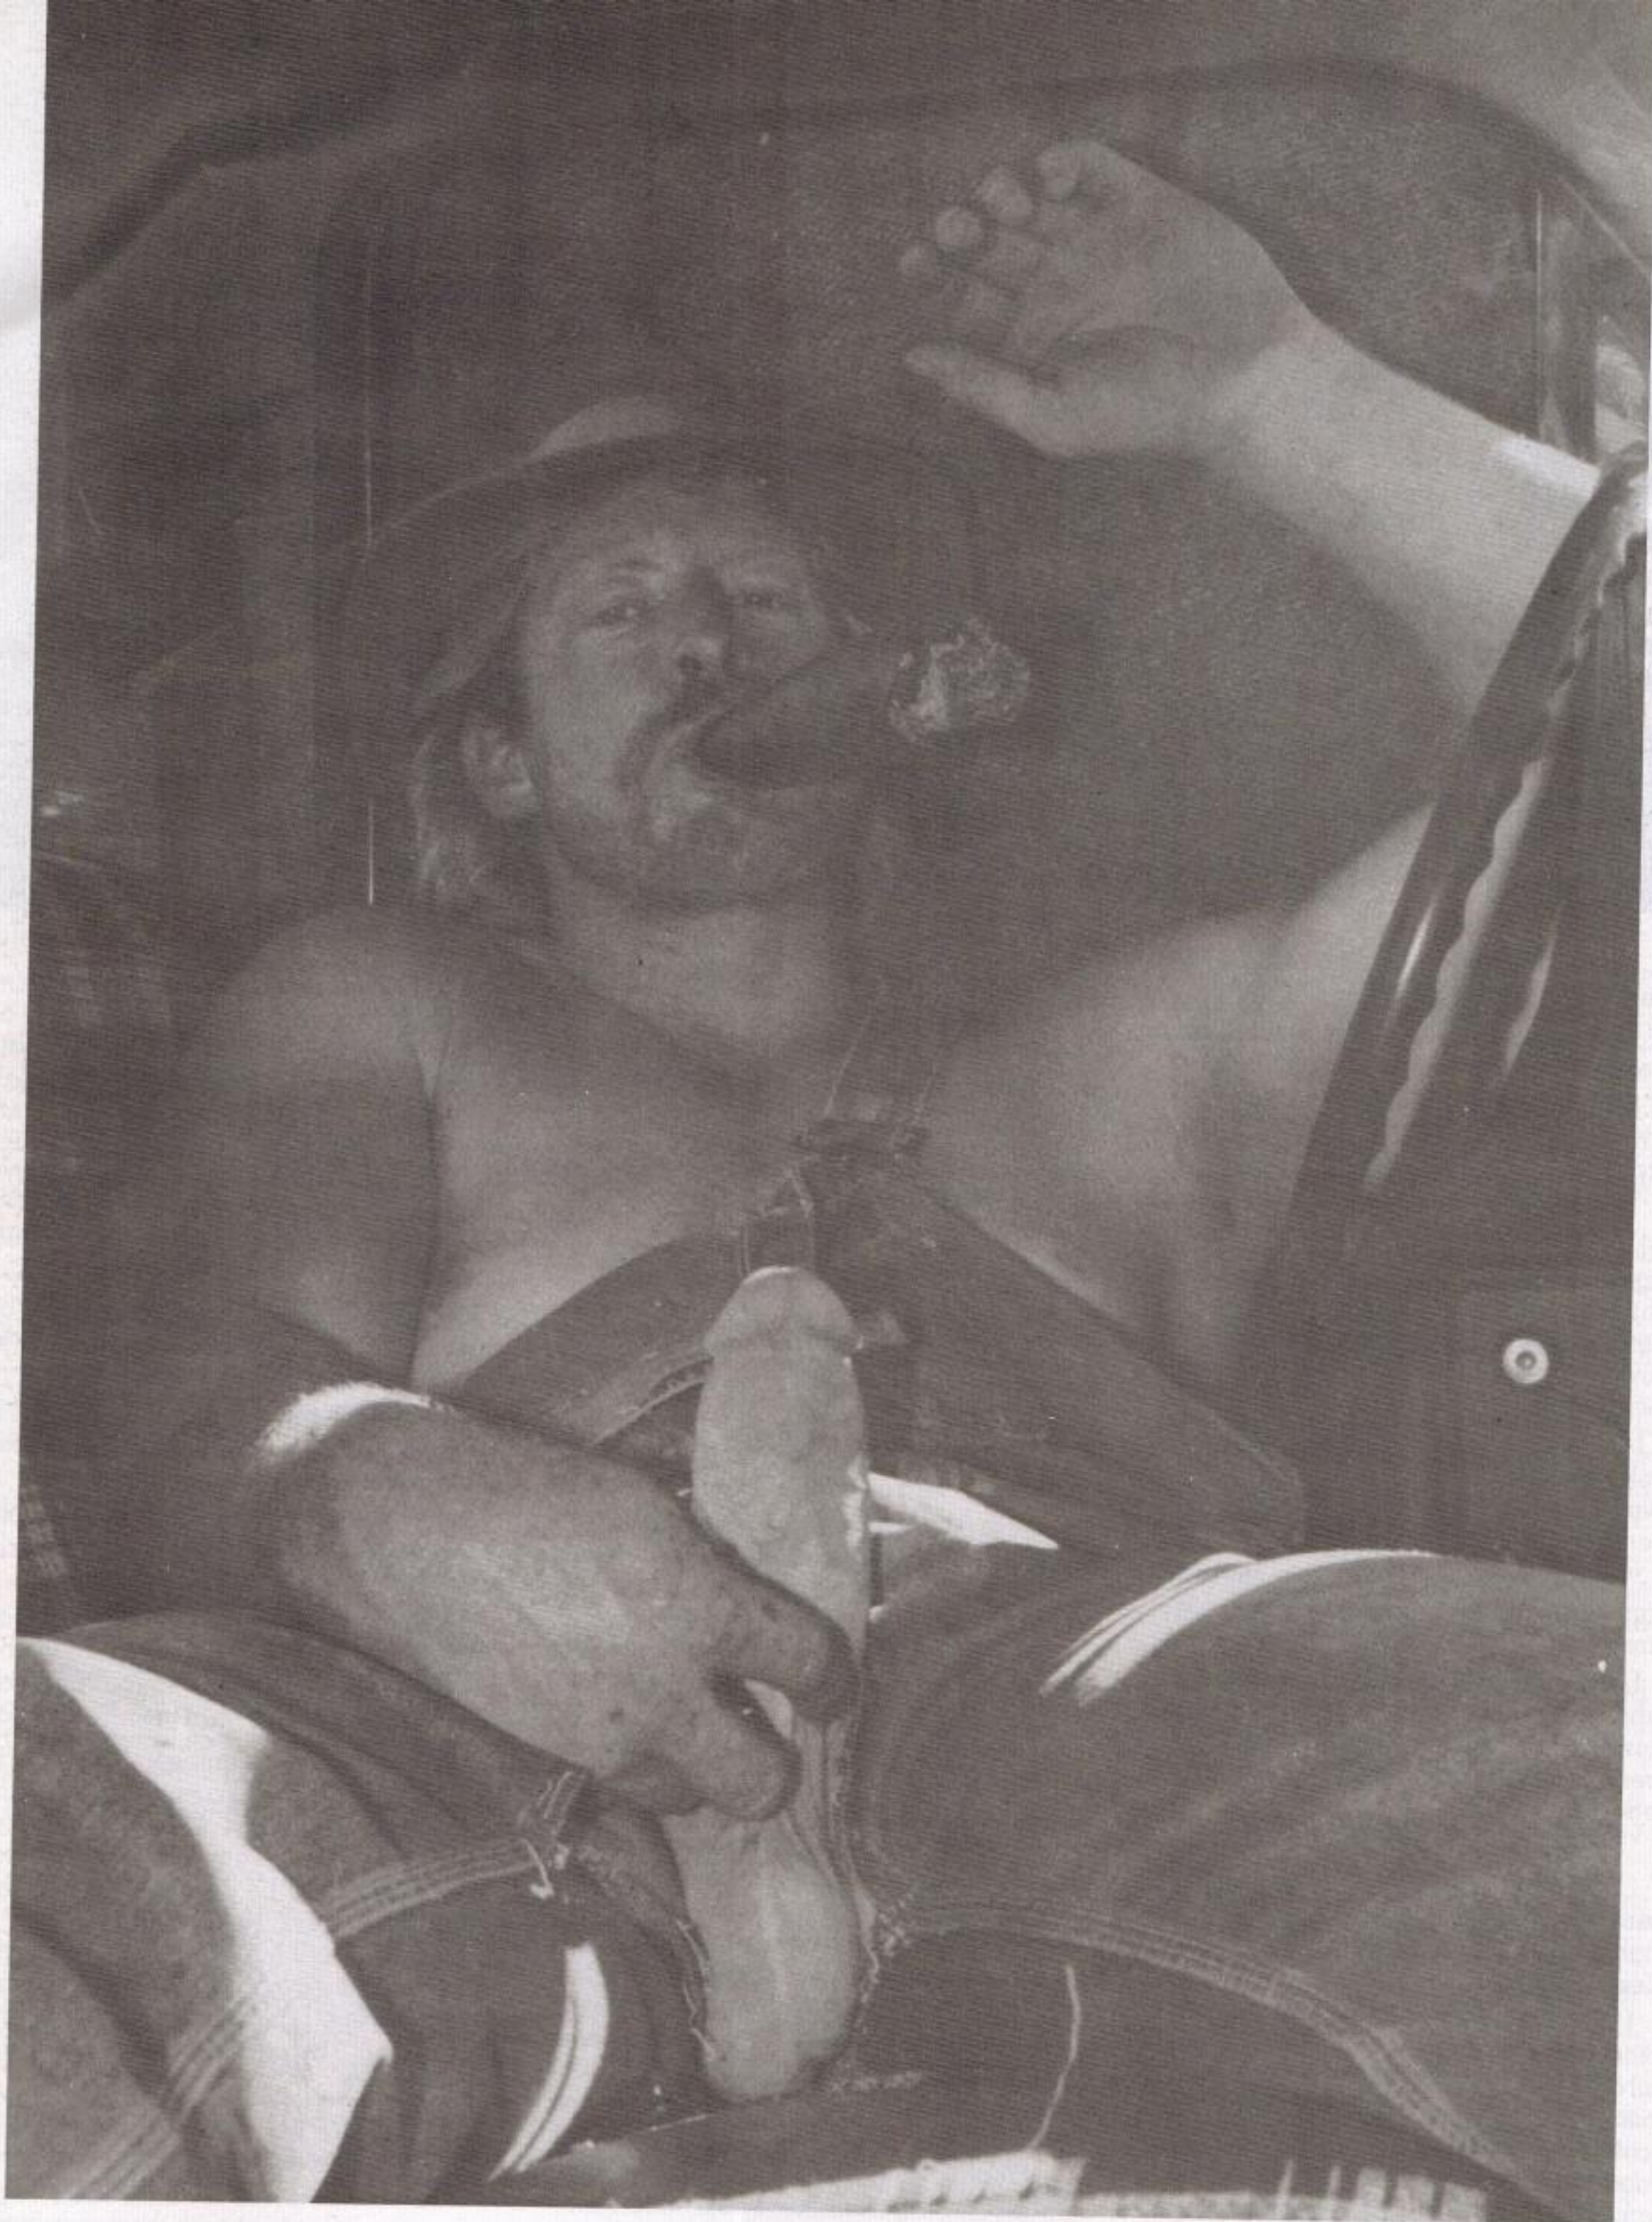

"No, I don't keep numbers. My old lady would find it. She'd be on my fuckin' case for months tryin' to get it out of me who you were. Don't know how I'm gonna explain my ass bein' so sore. I'll be sittin' real soft in the recliner for a week. Hope she don't notice. If she does, I'll tell her it's hemorrhoids and hope she lets it go at that," he said. "I also lose numbers. I'd lose my ass if it weren't screwed on." He gave me a knowing smile. I got the joke.

"Well, maybe I'll see you again," I said.

"Maybe," he said.

It had started to rain as I climbed out of the cab and walked back to the restaurant. My thoughts were heavy with the Big Boy. I sure hope I can meet up with that Daddy Bear again someday. □

SMOKEOUT

by Michael Agreve

The man had it all: a thickly-whiskered face, a massive body topped by two cone-shaped mounds of tit flesh, a thick bulge resting between a pair of thighs as thick as redwoods, two thick-soled leather boots that were meant to receive a licking from a slave tongue, and finally, a pair of sensuously curved lips that were clamped around one of the thickest and foulest smelling cigars I had ever encountered. Yeah, the man was perfect. As I walked towards him, trying to act as nonchalant as possible, there was no doubt that this was the kind of man I had spent nights dreaming about as I worked my dick into a cum-based lather. It didn't matter that to most other guys he would probably be just some overgrown slob stinking up the air with his equally overgrown cigar butt. What mattered was that as I sauntered by him, my own cigar dwarfed by the one jutting out of his mouth, he nodded his head in recognition of the fact that another cigar stud had entered his smoke-filled territory.

Like two cats deciding whether to fight or fuck, we discreetly sized up each other from a distance of only a few feet. He seemed to like what he saw. Like my cigar, my body was a smaller version of his own, with less padding around the middle and fewer inches of height. We could have been kissing cousins, except for the fact that his longish hair was the palest blonde possible, while mine was more of the "dirty" or "piss blonde" variety. But the attitude was the same. Nobody was about to invade our territory without having a good reason to do so. Nor was anybody likely to pause within breathing room of our stogies without having at least a half-assed interest in the kind of stink that only a good cigar can generate. As we watched each other from the corners of our eyes, the air surrounding us turned into a haze, forcing us into a kind of smoking room all our own.

I didn't mind the privacy. I never was one for crowds. Obviously, my friend had no love for packed-together bodies either. He leaned back and raised one booted foot against the wall, then lifted his head up in a gesture that could have either been an invitation to join him or a challenge to stay clear of his territory. I thought about the choices for a couple of seconds, then decided that he was just too hot looking not to be explored further.

I inched my way into the corner where he stood, trying not to show off the hard-on that the sight of his heavy boots and hot cigar had given me. It wasn't easy. As I came closer, inch after solid inch crept up against my leg. My body temperature rose at the same time. By the time I got within slapping distance of him, my cock had grown to about as big as it had ever gotten. Then it began to throb as he folded his arms across his chest, puffing out his massive pecs and at the same time creating an even greater sense of danger around him.

I couldn't move. I was trapped in a smoke-filled net that he had woven around his well-padded body. For the first time, I could feel the choking in my throat that everyone else in the place was sensing. It began in the pit of my stomach and fanned upwards until there was a lump in my throat as big as the lump in my crotch. Now that I was inside his space, I would be expected to respect the man and the cigar that had created the invisible wall around us. I could no longer chomp on my butt with the confidence of someone who challenges everyone around him to say something negative about it. I could only puff away gingerly, an accomplice to his already perpetrated crime. I knew that he had earned the right to be thought of as a Master. I wasn't about to do anything to challenge that right.

He seemed to sense my nervousness. Like a true expert in the art of mind fucking, he capitalized on my weakness, sending puffs of foul smoke in my direction while he kept his gaze focused straight ahead. Only when my cigar went out did he acknowledge my presence by flicking a light in front of my face. As the flame illuminated the haze around us, I felt an even greater fear when he moved forward, match first. When it stopped at the tip of my cigar, I relaxed. So great was the feeling of sexual menace surrounding him that I had conjured up images of burning flesh peeling off my face. Instead, I watched his face light up in a smile as the half-inch of dry ash at the tip of my cigar caught a glow and sprang to life again.

"You shouldn't be smoking them cheap stogies. They'll burn out on you every time. When you finish with that baby butt, you can try one of mine." He gestured towards a leather pouch filled with an assortment of cigars, each one longer and thicker than the other. "My name's Bart. My friends call me Buddha... for obvious reasons."

I stared down at his gut, excited by the prospect of having it lying on top of mine as we let our dicks slip and slide over each other. "My name's Al. No nicknames... just Al."

He stretched out an arm towards me and grabbed my hand in a vise-like grip that made my teeth chatter. Not only did the man have bulk, he also had enough power to make his resemblance to a wild bear complete. "What're you doing in a joint like this? You don't look like the type that goes for pimple-faced twinkies."

I looked around and surveyed the crush of young and sometimes painfully emaciated bodies. Then I looked back at Bart... Buddha, and returned the smile. "What are you doing here?"

He held onto the grin for a couple of seconds then shifted his weight until the other leg now rested against the wall. "Just looking, I suppose. Same as you are. Trying to figure out why anyone would want to go with one of them droopy-assed shitheads when they could grapple with a half-ton of man flesh instead."

I could sense something unspoken behind the words, but didn't pursue it. I knew all too well that he didn't stand a chance in holy hell with most of the guys in the bar. Neither did I for that matter. We were a special taste, like the taste for well-worn boots and foul-smelling cigars. We both wore our kinks in the form of scraggly beards and clothing that was ripped in all the wrong places. Anyone who recognized the signs could tell at a glance that for us, sex was chance to enter a mind tunnel and run the full length of it until you finally caught a glimpse of light at the other end. The only thing we feared was that we'd reach the light before we got a chance to explore every inch along the way.

Yes, we understood each other, all right. Maybe that's why we were able to just stand there, neither one speaking, as we let our brains conjure up all the possibilities that our hook-up could offer. When the words finally did come out, it was Buddha who spoke. He offered me an invitation to go back to his place. He didn't have to say a word about what we'd do once we got back there. Like the connection between one lit cigar and another, it was understood implicitly. We moved out of the bar in silence, followed by the stares of everyone who had watched our mental dancing in the corner. No doubt some were wondering about how we'd fit together in one small bed. Others might be figuring out the cost in damaged sinuses as we left a trail of smoke in our wake. But one thing was certain—we weren't leaving the bar just to take a walk around the block. We were leaving to go home and fuck our minds with smoke and lots of good old fashioned imagination.

"Why don't you get out of those clothes? Leave just your boots and socks on. I'll be in as soon as I finish this beer."

I watched his massive body as it stood framed by the wooden doorway. He was still fully dressed. Only the top three buttons of his black and blue plaid shirt had been opened up as I made a play for the hairy mounds of his cone-shaped tits. I could still see my spit glistening on his half-hidden skin. He had let me suck on his chest, nibbling the sizable tit buds as I slobbered over his pecs for almost fifteen minutes. My hands had nervously reached down towards his cock in a desperate attempt to make some mental measurements of his meat. He had stopped me, grabbing my hands and pushing them in back as I served his chest. Then he shoved me forward into the tiny bedroom and left me there for a couple of minutes while he retrieved a beer. All the while, the room filled up with cigar smoke as I obediently waited for his return.

"Come to think of it, you might as well take your boots and socks off too. I don't think you'll be needing them tonight."

I started removing my shirt as he turned and walked out of the room. A cloud of thick smoke trailed behind him, inducing me to remove my pants and then my well-worn jock strap. I threw my clothing in a heap into a far corner, adding to the one or two piles that seemed to grow up out of the wooden floor. Then I sat down on the oversized bed and started tugging at my boots. They came off slowly, revealing enough musk to make any boot slave lick his chops in anticipation. Then I peeled the sweat soaked socks off and stood up once again. My reflection looked back at me from the wall of mirrors positioned opposite the bed. It wasn't an encouraging sight.

I was hairless as a naked babe with a crotch shaven smooth as the day it first passed out of the womb and into the world. There was no muscle definition to make hearts flutter. But there was a boyishly handsome face that spoke of Irish ancestors who had mated with big-dicked Italians to produce the seven inches I was sporting. A thick leather band had been secured around the base of my cock making it appear much bigger than it was. Topped by a beer belly that was also a gift from my Irish ancestors, the effect was somehow incongruous. But obviously, Buddha didn't mind. I could hear him sucking his breath in as he came into the room, his shirt now off and his pecs pushed out even further by the criss-crossing straps of a leather harness.

"I like it boy. I like it a whole lot."

I couldn't tell if he was talking about my cock or my belly, or both. All I knew was that as he moved towards me, his cigar puffing out haze a mile a minute, I could see his cock rise beneath his belt. I reached out towards it once more, only to have my hand slapped hard then pushed behind me.

"I'll let you know when you can touch my dick, shithead."

He grabbed the other hand and quickly pulled out a length of leather strapping from his back pocket. Quickly, he wound the leather coil around my wrists, securing them, leaving little doubt about who was in charge of the scene.

"Now, let's me and you have a good talk, boy. I want to know just what you're going to do to please me. I got lots of time, so don't leave out any details."

He pushed me down on the bed and placed a couple of pillows under my head. I moved my legs out straight as he sat down on the edge and began stroking my bare feet. I could sense his excitement as he played with each toe. Slowly, I began to relate to him each little detail of how

I would first plant my mouth on his boots, then work my tongue upwards until I had licked every inch of his massive body.

All the while, my bound-up cock twitched endlessly as he ran his hand up my leg towards the spot where my smooth shaven balls were draped over my ass pucker. Only when I started begging him to let me claim his grungy boots did he smile up at me, then lower his face onto my foot and begin to lap up the sweat that had covered it.

I couldn't believe that it was him, not me, sucking foot. But as he mouthed one toe, then another, then all five at once, I stopped thinking and just gave in to the incredible pleasure his mouth afforded. When he had finished with one foot, then the other, I watched as he stood up and placed one booted leg under my chin and shoved my face onto the leather surface with the other. "Now that you know how it ought to be done, let's see you put your money where your mouth is. Come on, boy, suck on those boots. Shine your Daddy's shit kickers."

A thick cloud of smoke came drifting towards me as I turned my head and began to tongue the thick leather surface of his boots. I could taste stale beer and what may or may not have been a couple of drops of dried-out piss at the tip. I could also taste cigar smoke as he leaned in closer and watched my performance. Even though he had just finished licking my bare peds off, he was still obviously the master of the situation. With his hair-covered tits scrunched up as he bent over, and his belly protruding almost into my face, there was no doubt about who had the physical and mental advantage. As his sweat began to slide down his stomach and dripped onto his boots, I lapped it up greedily, thanking him out loud as he pushed my face deeper and deeper into the spit drenched surface. Finally, when both were absolutely clean, he pushed my head forward and ordered me to lick his paunch.

I groaned loudly as my tongue made contact with the thick slab of flesh that was draped over his belt buckle. Slowly, its surface became a mass of matted hair as I licked and slobbered over every inch of his torso. As wave after wave of dense smoke was fanned in my direction, I once again claimed his massive pecs for my own. I could smell the ripeness from his pits as I worked my tongue over the mountains and valleys of his body's landscapes. Finally, as he stretched his arms up towards the ceiling, I lay claim to the thickly forested pits where all of his body smells seemed to churn and bubble out. I slobbered and sucked until I could see the pale flesh underneath turning a bright crimson. Then, I lifted my head upward and opened my mouth up wide to receive his greatest gift.

Our two rounded bellies touched as he passed the dregs from his cigar on to me slowly and with as much determination as his mind could conjure up. I swallowed the dense smoke and spit it out again, smiling as I watched his face contort with gut level pleasure. Then I thanked him for the gift he had just given me. Over and over, I thanked him until the ash that grew from the end of his stogie drooped dangerously towards my ever-receptive mouth. I wondered what the ash would taste like. Then, as he drew the butt out of his mouth and held it close to my face, I panicked as the reality of that taste hit home.

"What's the matter, boy. Don't trust your Daddy? Think I'll do something to hurt my little boy?"

I wanted to say "Yes," but mumbled the opposite. That set him to laughing. He knew that I was lying.

"We'll see, boy. We'll see how much you trust your master."

He lowered the butt below my chin, then stared intensely into my eyes as he flicked the ash downward. One half-burning clump of ash fell across my chest, missing my nipple by a fraction of an inch. Another came falling onto my cock, sending stabs of pain through me as it landed on the tender head. Fortunately, most of the burning embers had been extinguished long before they fell. Buddha knew they would. What remained could only sting. But that stinging was enough. It released in me a desire so acute that I had to strain to keep my load inside my nut sac. Instead, I plunged my head downwards, not stopping until my mouth was clamped onto the spot where his dick was pushed up against the worn fabric of his jeans.

I suction-cupped my lips onto the covered surface of cock, then began to tongue it like it was a bare bone. Instantly, his paw-like hands clamped around the back of my neck, forcing my face even deeper into the recesses of the grimy Levis. I spit soaked his pants, revealing more and more of the outline of his cock. I wanted so desperately to eat the raw meat resting underneath. He knew it too. He held my mouth away for a few seconds as he clumsily tugged at the zipper holding his dick in. Automatically, I let my tongue work its way out from between my lips as I saw first the rounded cock head, then the thick shaft appear in my line of vision.

Like the man himself, the cock was big and fat and possessed a visual power that held my mind in thrall. It lay nestled in a dense forest of curling blond hairs. Part of me wanted desperately to swallow it and serve every inch of its vein-studded surface. Another part of me wanted to just lie there and marvel at the way it curved upwards, almost touching the slab of his beer gut. It was the man himself who decided the dilemma as he pushed my face forward and ordered me to worship his cigar-shaped dick.

I obeyed, taking first the cock head into my mouth, then claiming the shaft. All the while, I could smell the sweat that poured off his hefty nuts onto the sheets below. I wanted that sweat for my own. But I could wait. I had plenty of dick worshipping to do before I would beg him to feed me his hairy balls and ass pucker.

"You suck that dick, boy. Eat every inch of your Daddy's dick. Worship it, boy. You do a real good job and I'll let you suck my feet off."

That did it. I raised my head up and then plunged it back down onto his boner, repeating the action time and time again until I could feel his body vibrating with the need for release. When it finally came, it was in one thick burst of cum that shot out of his piss slit across my beard and onto my chest.

I slid off the bed, my chest dripping with his still warm spunk as I watched him move his body onto the sticky sheets. He moved with the grace of a cat, never once taking his eyes off me. I knew that even with his load seeping down towards my crotch, he was not about to release me from his sexual web. Like a spider who traps its victim, then weaves a cocoon around it, leaving bound for a feast later, at the spider's convenience . . . he wove invisible ropes that bound me to his will. First, with a fresh cigar planted firmly between his teeth, then with the sight of his cock dangling between his massive thighs, he spun circle after circle around my brain. He never said a word, gave no command, or even the slightest hint of what he expected from me. But as he lay there, puffing silently on his tobacco stick, I understood exactly what he wanted.

Without breaking the mood by speaking, I slipped silently down on my knees in front of the bed. I sat crouching, my eyes fixed on the slow, steady rise and fall of his mountainous belly. Only his eyes spoke to me, with subtle shades of meaning passing across the pale blue surface like dots and dashes of morse code. I watched the matted ringlets of his pale hair circling his face. Then, as he pointed one fat finger towards the foot of the bed, I lowered my head onto his boots and began once more to lick the smooth leather surface.

I sucked and polished the dyed-black hide, making sure that my tongue dug in deep enough for him to feel every worshipful movement. Finally, as the surface glistened with my spit, I saw him reach down and begin to untie the laces holding the boots tightly in place. I moaned as one boot came off, then another, releasing the smells that had been trapped inside the warm sock. I could see his cock springing back to life. Its rounded head glowed with a fresh coating of precum, making my mouth water as he palmed it gently at first, then with slowly increasing pressure.

My own cock was desperate to release its juices. But my hands were still secured behind my back, making any dick pulling impossible. Instead, I rubbed my organ on the edge of the mattress as I sat there watching him remove one sock, then another.

Soon, both of his feet were bare. I lowered my face into the grouping of five rounded toes and began inhaling the combination of sweat and shoe leather that had collected there. I wanted desperately to suck on his toes, just like he had done with mine. Instead, I rested there with my nose up against them, waiting for him to signal what he expected me to do next. I waited and waited, but still he lay there, his cock in one hand and his mouth noisily chewing on the end of his cigar. Every now and then, he'd direct a puff of smoke at me, causing my cock to jump up in expectation.

Only when his cigar was halfway down did he take notice of the fact that I was crouching in desperate expectation. He withdrew the cigar from his lips and grasped it in his hand. Then he lowered it down towards me. I half expected him to flick another load of ash on me. Instead, he brought the cigar down towards his left foot and planted it firmly between his second and third toes. Immediately, I understood what he wanted. I moved my head in closer to his foot and wrapped my mouth around the end of the cigar that had been planted in his mouth only seconds ago. I breathed in deeply, sighing as the familiar taste of tobacco made the inside of my mouth tingle.

"You finish that one for me, boy."

I exhaled, filling the air in front of me with a thick cloud of smoke.

"I told you I'd get you something better than those nickel butts you were smoking, didn't I?"

I stopped puffing long enough to bark out a loud "Yes, Sir." Then I started smoking again, aware that with each puff I was able to get an equally rewarding taste of his bare foot.

"Just don't let it get down too low. If you burn my tootsies, you'll have to spend the rest of next week sucking on them."

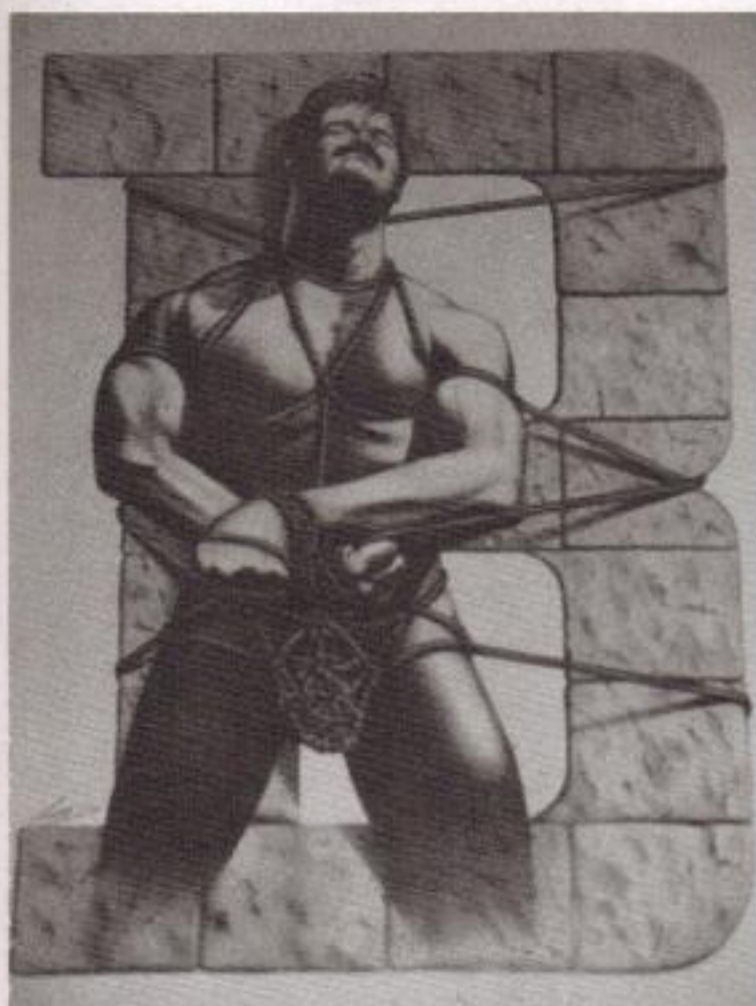

I wanted to say that I'd like nothing better. Instead, I once more sang out the required "Yes, Sir," and continued to finish up his butt. When it was dangerously at the point of touching his toes, I slid the lit stogie out carefully with my teeth, then moved it towards the ashtray. I snuffed it out with several quick downward stabs of my head, then let it drop into the glass bowl. Secure in the knowledge that I had done what I was told to do, I stood up slowly and let my eyes wander down to the man who was sprawled out on the bed, fast asleep.

Even in his sleep he resembled a bear. Only now, he was a bear in hibernation. The rhythmical movements of his breathing expanded his chest, making my mouth long for the salty taste of his sweaty pecs. His cock, now soft, lay to one side, shrunken, seeming a lot smaller than it was. Only the body remained its true size, leaving little room on the bed for me. But the temptation to snuggle was just too great. I slid myself between his wide spread legs and managed to curl myself up so that I could claim some room below his crotch. It didn't matter that my feet hung over the side of the bed or that my wrists were beginning to feel the fatigue of having been bound up for so long. I knew just how he wanted me to sleep, and I knew that my own comfort took a back seat to his need for pleasure.

I lay there, like a fetus desperately seeking some attachment to its Big Daddy. I could smell the sweat coming from his crotch mixed with the stale smoke that had draped our bodies like fog clinging to a shoreline. We smelled alike, my Daddy and me. We had each tasted part of the other and somehow blended those tastes into something that went beyond just sampling. I had tied myself to his massive body both literally and figuratively. Now, as sleep began to settle over my brain, I raised my head upward and sought out the connection that would firmly tie the newborn to its maker. I opened my mouth up wide and brought his cock inside with one loud gulping motion. Then I clamped my mouth shut and locked his dick inside.

I would spend the long night with it resting firmly inside my throat. It would be just one more cigar that I could chomp on and stroke slowly with my tongue. But it would be the best cigar of all. It would be my Daddy's. □

With Apologies . . .

It is said that to err is human, to forgive divine. Maybe it is more accurate to say that to err is unavoidable in the publishing business, to ask forgiveness uncommon. But we know you'll give us a break

In Drummer 136, our spirituality issue, there was a stunning painting of a hunk bound to the letter B—that's B as in bondage. We had kept the painting around the office for a year or so, watching always for the perfect opportunity to use it in full color. Finally, with the title of my article on the spiritual dimensions of Bondage, that opportunity came. And we blew it. In flowing in a solid black background, we obliterated the artist's signature, and we failed to give him credit on the facing page. The picture, reproduced here in black and white, was created by Leon, Denver's justly-famous leather artist.

In Drummer 137, the issue with all three winners from our Tom of Finland story contest, we presented a portfolio of photographs from Mark I. Chester's "Sexual Portraits and Private Acts from the Warzone." Somehow, despite a great deal of care having been taken to see that none of Chester's images would be cropped or otherwise distorted, two of the photographs came back from the printer slightly altered in shape, top edges trimmed away. The portrait of "Scott and Dwayne" was still acceptable—but not right. On the other hand, the photograph entitled "Bill" had lost too much of its original impact. So, to give you a chance to see Mark I. Chester's "Bill" as he intended it, it is reproduced here in its entirety.

Finally, we have been failing to give credit where it is due. For the past few issues, we have been calling on Tom W. Kelly for editorial assistance. In this issue, belatedly and finally, his name has been added to the masthead.

Are we forgiven?

Sincerely hoping so,

Bears On Film

by Joseph W. Bean

TAKING THE PLUNGE

Bears are not exactly your standard porn-star types. That honored (ha!) status belongs to buffed baby boys still, but don't you wonder why? Actually, there may be a little bit of a shift afoot. While I usually just ignore the "pretty boys with tan lines" flicks, I did watch one lately. It's Falcon's Plunge.

This is not a leather or SM video, just a tiny straying of the mainstream stuff in our direction. Some furry legs, a couple of butt slaps here and there, a sprinkling of tattoos, a shaved asshole or two allowed to grow back to bristle, and even a little playful bondage . . . plus one of the pretty fellas here has some curls on his pecs. Not much, as I said . . . but if Mom's going to visit and you think Dungeons of Europe is a bit heavy for her, or if you come home one evening with a taste for something pink and fluffy, Plunge may be just the thing.

On a scale of one to ten bears, ten being best, it's a slim ONE BEAR.

OOOH, DADDY!

If you like your bears a little on the Daddy side, you'll go for the Papa Bears in Working Stiffs, an Adam & Company/Altomar video. The title sequence—a rap number about a "working stiff" who just "can't wait to get off"—is dull, even disturbing. And the next bit doesn't do much magic either: Grisly bear wakes up and fantasizes that the black, bodybuilder, aerobics instructor on TV pops out and gets him off.

Fortunately, our sleepy, grey-furred Papa goes to work and finds a couple of his men fucking off, actually jerking off, and—as any decent foreman would—he joins them. The sex stays pretty vanilla, but the guys are delicious, and the construction site setting is pretty exciting.

The other scenes are all separate little playlets: A Daddy-boy couple christen a redwood deck they've just built. In the absence of champagne, they're forced to make do with cum, a procedure they have obviously used before. Then a hard hat comes home and jerks off using only his hand and a convenient mirror. The hard hat here is one Harley Behr—one very beautiful Harley Behr.

In the last bit, a black guy in a suit, but not what I would call a black bear, finds Drummer Daddies in his mail, and almost gets himself off before his Daddy (our job-site foreman, above) comes home to help.

Overall, Working Stiffs is good stuff, maybe as interesting for the boots and feet and sox as for the bears and the sex. So, on the ten-bear scale, with added points for feet-featuring, it rates an easy EIGHT BEARS.

CUBS AND PUPS

Bears and Cubs from Adam & Company is a great title. Unfortunately, the tape inside the beautifully titled box is 99% bear-free. It has a bit of fuzz here and there, but not much. Still, while it wimps out for the most part, it has its moments.

Seeing a "cub" switch gears, and go from licking and sucking J. D. Slater's dick to ripping the seat out of his (Slater's) jeans and fucking him . . . that's nice.

After a few scenes that are sexy enough in their way (I guess), if hardly bear-stuff, there's another definite highlight. A Daddy shows up, one who might pass for a bear in someone's view (not mine). Anyway, he certainly did get a few inches of blood pumping south and staying there. He has some dark fur, a thick moustache, and an even thicker uncut dick. His cub or boy also happens to have a pretty impressive uncut cock. Two dicks with generous foreskins can lead to only one conclusion: a beautiful, but in this case far too brief, docking scene; deep, mutual foreskin fucking. Hot stuff. It's only a minute, but if it's what you really want, it may be reason enough to own Bears and Cubs.

Then, in the last two minutes or so of the tape, we get to see the truly magnificent country bear whose picture graces the back of the box. He is so ill-used and under-used, though, you'll feel cheated if you buy or rent the tape because of him. So, grand as it is to see so perfect a sculpture of bear flesh, his tiny little moment on screen can not be called a highlight.

Gems in the mire, adding up to a maximum of THREE BEARS.

THREE TRUE BEAR FLICKS

You'd expect COA, the people who make Bear Magazine, to know what a bear is, and they do. Their videos are all bear all the time, and they've made quite a few of them. Here are some samples.

Big Bear Men, a COA video now being distributed by Bijou, is subtitled "A facial and body hair extravaganza," and that's just the beginning. Maybe the COA folks have something to learn about video making, but they sure know how to push all of my bear-lover buttons. In nine solo scenes (interrupted by one very brief fling of fucking), they do it all. In fact, scene one alone got me off. It's a leather bear who shows his tits whose boss, his cock too. Then, once I got my juices back to a functional level, I dove into the other eight scenes. Mmm Mmm good.

These guys are doing something I'd love to see more video producers doing. They're putting their own interests, fetishes, and passions on tape. Anyone could figure out what a bear should look like and shoot the appropriate body types in erotic situations, but only an experienced bear hunter, bear lover, or bear could do the whole thing right. I don't suppose there is a descriptably "bear" way to work food or dildos or cigars or spit into a JO scene. And, if you need to hear a description, no amount of describing will do. But, if you know, you know, and these guys know.

Big Bear Men gets EIGHT BEARS, easy.

Bear Fuck Party is another COA success. This one, though, is less perfect. The guys are great—more bellies than fur this time—but the video drags from semi-event to sub-event all along. What to do? You have all these great bears sucking and fucking and slugging each other, but the tape never gets rolling. So, you put it aside for play time. Right, that's my plan. These guys would be good background video. Every once in a while they'll catch my attention or my partner's, and we'll watch or half-watch. In between, we can just entertain ourselves.

Bad as the video compilation is, the bears and the sex are too good to ignore completely. So, cast 10, tape 2, for an average of SIX BEARS.

Finishing up the COA trio, we have another super tape, Big Bad Bears. The star here is Jay Shaffer whose star-quality erotic fiction you've seen in the pages of Drummer. So down'n'dirty. In the video, Jay plays the part of an erotic story writer conjuring up the bears he has written about. And, like the men in any erotic fantasy, Jay's imagined bears are perfect. In fact, his first flight of fantasy will floor you if you're already a bear hunter and convert you if you're not.

Bear number one is a dream. His beautifully bearded face; his fur; his hard, round belly; and ISTANBUL, Turkey — The captain of the Janissary Guards of Sultan Suleyman's Palace surrendered to authorities nearly 2 months after he fled from Topkapi and was charged with infiltrating the Royal Harem.

Captain Mustafa Taksim, 26, born Kiro Zatezalo, in the province of Serbia, became a member of the Sultan's elite military unit composed solely of non-Turkish young men soon after he was taken in a raid in 1521.

After his surrender, Taksim was placed in a cell in the dungeons of Topkapi Palace awaiting sentencing. Taksim had arranged through the Chief Eunuch to surrender after his hideout was discovered. Since his disappearance in September 1529, there had been rumors that he was seen as far away as Edirne and Bursa. The surrender was announced by Abdul Nevsehir, the Justice Minister. Nevsehir's name is often linked with routine torture of prisoners.

Taksim is being questioned about his intrusion into the Harem, and fairly reliable sources claim that Taksim is undergoing "intense interrogation." He is said to have already been tortured — including having the soles of his bare feet beaten with a cane (the "Falanga," or sometimes called the "Bastinado") a favorite method of Turkish authorities. He is reported to be strong and stubborn and has thus far refused to implicate anyone in the Royal household. The report leaves no doubt that he will eventually reveal the name of his accomplice. The penalty for such offenses is traditionally flogging for members of the Royal household, and impalement for the suitor.

above all his soft/hard, hurt/hurt-me eyes will get to you. And, after he cums, when his did-I-do-okay grin begs for approval, you just can't hold back. Careful. Remember, it's video. Kiss gently.

Then nine more scenes all tumble by, each differently delightful. You'll get your fill of (overly!?) safe watersports, fur, cock, ass play and foreskin here if in any single bear or Daddy video. Special treats come in the form of Jay's talented asshole gobbling up and coughing out chrome eggs, and a shaggy-bearded fella in leather, white shirt and tie who pisses all over his faded black jeans... for starters. Splash. Yumm. TEN BEARS, all growling.

KEITH ARDENT PLUS

What does a video producer do when he has a few reels of hot sex scenes on totally unrealistic backgrounds, each scene a different background and a different couple? Well, if you're Adam & Company, you get very creative, and you come up with Raw Footage.

The raw footage that needed to be put to use and became Raw Footage: The Video is too hot not to market and too weird to write a story around. So, it is presented as the raw footage being examined by a video editor. Nice trick. Given a couple of delivery boys, a producer, an editor, and a boy who has an audition to do, plus the six guys on the editor's monitor, this flick is bursting with men who are at least pleasant looking, some of them much better than that.

For me—and for many of you, I suspect—the attraction of Raw Footage in the box is Keith Ardent. Watching the tape changes nothing. Ardent (see Drummer 118 or Mach 19 if you don't remember him) is the best of it. Adam & Company knew he would be, of course. So, the scene with Ardent and Cesar Blanco playing with each other in a set that looks like Superman's Fortress of Silence is stretched to the limit, intercut with the editor-delivery boy scene. Not to worry, the stretching is very sensitively done. It works.

This is not a leather or SM tape by any means. In fact, the guys playing the "live" Hollywood characters look their parts right down to the bleached hair and sunburns. So, accuse me of a vanilla streak or two, but I enjoyed it.

Not much on the true bear scale, but FOUR BEARS for getting my purr motor running.

The Sociology of THE URBAN BEAR

by Les Wright

Amid the social and sexual interactions I have had in San Francisco over the past two or three years, I have become aware of a growing sentiment among a widening range of gay men, one that reflects my own social and sexual ideals.

I am powerfully attracted to most of these men. They seem to embody both the spirit and the flesh, the passion and the playfulness of what is rapidly emerging as a new movement. While the term "movement" might be considered a bit premature, I would characterize this bear phenomenon at the very least as a shift in consciousness in the burgeoning post-panic sexual thaw.

Undoubtedly, I view "gay bears" through the rose-colored glasses of an avid participant/observer. But in the social interactions of an ever-growing circle of kindred spirits, bears have been discovering a new spiritual home, a social and sexual community that reflects a new simplicity and candor, a new matter-of-factness about erotic survival in a time when some of the most sexually repressive energy is emanating from the larger gay community.

What follows is based on my own impressions and experiences. In those experiences I have found growing patterns that have arisen spontaneously, and a good many bears, if queried, would surely be surprised at my comments. What seems to have begun as a straightforward assertion of private desires is rapidly transforming into a whole new sexual aesthetic.

WHAT IS A BEAR?

It is well known that grizzly bears are wildly promiscuous. The most obvious symbols of beariness—body hair and beards and burliness, traits traditionally acceptable only in leathersex circles—underscore a direct sexual interest in certain physical types. Bears are self-defined as hairy and/or full-bearded, often balding, and they may describe themselves as black, brown, kodiak, or polar; grizzly, teddy, or cub. Moustaches qualify as "demi-bear." In 1989, Bear magazine conducted an informal poll, asking whether a full beard, a hirsute body, or a full-figured frame were all necessary to be considered a "bear." The response was anything but uniform. Each man chose to determine his own particular fetish (beard, body hair and/or weight), but most felt that a shared outlook, discovered among kindred spirits, was the most important thing.

Gay bears tend toward the heavy side—husky, heavy-set, burly, or forthrightly fat. Many clones and non-clones who put on weight early in the epidemic later discovered the pounds no longer came off. Some bears may still eroticize body weight from the erroneous assumption that "heavier equals healthier." And some respond in dyke-like fashion, rejecting clone fashion outright, calling it "looks-ism."

In the 70s, the Castro clone look became the hallmark of post-Stonewall gay men. Clones were traditionally masculine in appearance, embracing a generically working-class look of jeans and flannel shirts. The clone look was in fact a middle-class fetishization of working-class masculinity. At the time, it seemed like an exciting alternative, a middle of the road, normalizing social face that placed gay men somewhere between the (still perceived) extremes of "Polk Street" drag-and-chicken queens and the (so perceived) dangerous hypermasculinity of the "Folsom Street" leather scene, the geographic shorthand for stereotyping in gay Mecca in the 1970s.

Bear images, by comparison, play on romanticized fantasies which blend sexual "freedom" with "frontier living" with "independence" and blur distinctions between frontiersmen—the simple unfettered life of trappers, loggers, hunters—and the wild-animal-man object of their desire. In the gay arena, it is the dynamics of the hunter and the hunted, able at any time to exchange places, regroup, congregate in larger or smaller numbers.

The subcultures of leathersex, bears, and the vast working-class gay population of San Francisco intersect in the assertion of an openly and genuinely working-class homosexual ethic. This gives a different sort of uncloseted gayness which is frankly anti-clone, anti-status. It slips in between the gay and straight realms with a great deal more fluidity than the Financial-genius-by-day/Castro-clone-by-night schizophrenia ever could.

The origin of bear semiotics is traceable back to 1981 or 1982, just before AIDS erupted into an epidemic. At the time there was a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed over the colored-hanky semiotics which reduced gay men to very specific sexual acts. A lot of gay men pulled the colored hankies out of their back pockets, and stuffed little teddy bears in their places. The talk of the street then was about lightening up, making sex playful again, de-emphasizing sex as a competitive performance sport. Sticking a little teddy bear in your back pocket or shirt pocket was a way of saying, "I'm a human being. I give and receive affection."

One note on race and bears here: While the bear fetish of body hair clearly indicates a preference for hairy types, like-mindedness or simple beardedness can also serve as acceptable entrees. The men I have encountered on the street, at play parties, and in various private circles, people I consider kindred spirits in "bearness," cross racial and socio-economic lines in complicated ways. What they all have in common is a cohesiveness in their particular sexual identity. I could set up several grids to cross-reference the hairy types by race, but how do I account for bears who prefer a full beard and full figure, but couldn't care less about a hairy chest? What about cross-generational bear attractions, often also crossing racial lines? The archetypal bear exists, of course, in virtually every culture, and "totemic" correlations develop in many different ways.

The type of "we'll make do with what we have" philosophical approach that so often bridges the gaps between a bear and his partner, which I see in the way bears welcome each other in sex and society, seems a bona fide working-class value, one that is idealized (if not parodied) in the world of the Waltons.

BEARS' SOCIAL COHESION

A key to the cohesiveness of bears appears to lie in a shared class-based experience of the world. By no means do I assert that all bears are working-class, but rather that bears' sociosexual adhesiveness has its roots in a Whitmanesque democratic appreciation of the common man. It is my belief that in many ways working-class white gay men are discovering they have more, sometimes much more, in common with each other and with working-class black or latino gay men than they do with middle-class gay men of any color.

The common emotional bond for bears has been a kind of protective tenderness toward each other. Tolerance for differences in sexual interests, as attested by the social interaction between bears, the leather community, what I will tentatively call the interracial sexual community, chubby chasers, and Daddy admirers, as well as the "recovering" or "clean and sober" community.

Let me be clear. Bears are not synonymous with leather or SM, although the three overlap in interesting ways. Leather came and went as a fashion in the 70s. However, there is a clear distinction between leather as sexual fetish and leather as fashion fetish. And, in the first age of fist fucking, no-holds-barred recreational drug use, and sex-as-junk-food, even SM sex got a bit fashionable. The fashions in leather and SM are not relevant to bears. As Geoff Mains says in Urban Aboriginals, "Leatherspace is a movement that is both tribal and magical. It is founded in a mythos that speaks clearly of men and who they are and has been formulated by the tribe itself." The bears of San Francisco have learned a great deal of this tribal sort of community-building and group sexual bonding from the leathersex community. An intense blend of purely physical lust and genuine affection and deeply experienced sense of community informs the bear movement. Some bears are into leathersex, but most are not. While bears are a gay male group, there are as many scenes as there are people.

THE POST-PANIC SEX THAW

"AIDS shutdown" transformed Castro Street from a daily Mardi Gras into a virtual ghost town in a matter of twenty-some months in the early 1980s. After several years of shell shock, fear, and ignorance; after coming to terms scientifically with HIV and adjusting to a siege mentality in the midst of the epidemic, most San Franciscans have been able to resume some semblance of "normal" daily living. The most important aspect of the bear phenomenon is the reintegration of sex into our lives. This includes the adoption and normalization of "safer sex" practices, achieving a social consensus of maintaining such limits, of overcoming the AIDS-related hype that "sex equals death," making some realistic assessment of risk factors, and deciding that, on the whole, sex is still a wonderful thing.

PUBLICLY VISIBLE BEARS

The core group of men who founded the Bear Hugs Parties and the spin-off Leather Bears Parties (recently reunited for joint parties in 1990) came together to form a play group that respected safer-sex guidelines and the value of the Less-Than-GQ-Ten types, where regular guys could have satisfying sex with each other and not feel they didn't measure up.

BEAR HUG and LEATHER BEARS are groups who like to have parties where sensual atmosphere prevails. Then nudity, leather and hairy men all combine to share safe responsible sexual practices. We invite mature, responsible and uninhibited adult men to share friendship and physical pleasure with others of the same inclination. We engage in safe sexual practices and don't abuse controlled substances. We expect those who come to the parties to follow these few rules or to leave. (from The Bear Fax, No. 2, Feb 1990)

I have attended bear play parties in Berkeley and San Francisco, and there is an ambience I have not encountered elsewhere, at least not where social and sexual spaces are so merged. Men of all shapes and sizes and ages and races and sexual interests converge in these parties. Everyone is open to dalliance in the garden, on the dance floor, in the sex spaces. Men mingle and engage each other in social chitchat and sex—fully dressed, sexual undress; play and leather scenes. And, in it all, there is little or none of the old bath house tension.

Attitude is usually checked at the door. One "model type" left a recent bear party within twenty minutes, once he realized his buffed appearance didn't draw instant adulation. Everyone is welcome, but not everyone fits in.

Another recent phenomenon is Bear magazine, which might be said to "popularize and glamorize" the bear image, but to me it seems that the magazine engages in the same kind of participant-observer dynamic I find in myself. Bear published its first issue in 1987, growing from a small, locally produced, photocopied pamphlet for aficionados to a nationally circulated, glossy-covered magazine. The magazine's subtitle proposes that beariness be understood as "masculinity . . . without the trappings."

The shrinking of the (publicly visible) South of Market scene has left few leather bars in its wake. The big excitement last summer was the opening of a new, bear-friendly bar called The Lone Star Saloon. Once the Lone Star caught on, it became hugely popular, until the October 17 earthquake resulted in the building being condemned. It appears that, as of spring 1990, a bar called My Place in the heart of the Folsom area has become the hangout bar for bears on the prowl.

THE VALUE OF ADHESIVENESS

Bears' sociosexual networking shifts gay politics in subtle, but potentially significant ways. It represents a new democratization of sex. It normalizes gay sexual relations in the Age of AIDS. It asserts a certain matter-of-factness about the role of sex in an individual's social space. Bears' social behavior, by and large, presumes sobriety and embraces the values of the recovery movement. It makes a positive statement about the value of the individual, independent of that individual's economic status.

Bears are on a journey, some out of the gay ghetto and back into the world, some out of the sexual freeze and back into a resexualized gay society, neither apologetic nor unduly compromising. While there may be no such thing as a "whole" person in any absolute way, this kind of reintegration seems to make for spiritually sounder and emotionally healthier people: A bit more "Roseanne" (John Goodman makes a perfect bear), a bit less "Brideshead Revisited."

The bear movement may get slicked-up and commercialized. It may acquire a more differentiated system of status ranking in time. It may even become "big business" one way or another. But, for now, the bears and their "hunters" offer a grassroots opportunity to survive and flourish in the face of the slowly thawing social and sexual freeze. Carpe diem.

(Personally, I'd rather "seize the bear." Carpe Ursus? — PM)

Mr. Southern California Drummer Contest Benefits Los Angeles Aid for AIDS, Inc.

by Bill Humphrey
President of AFA Board of Directors

What's a straight physician doing on-stage in a Los Angeles leather bar on a Sunday afternoon, peeling off his shirt and donning a chest harness? Helping to raise funds for Aid For AIDS, Inc., the non-profit agency that helps Southern Californians with AIDS and ARC to pay their bills until government assistance begins.

Los Angeles' leather and uniform communities were instrumental in founding Aid for AIDS (AFA) in 1983, and continue to be among its strongest supporters. The doctor, an AIDS specialist, was joining — with much good humor — in one of the monthly beer busts that the leather community holds to raise funds for the agency. His donning of the harness, on a friendly dare, raised $2,000 alone!

So it is fitting that proceeds of the 1990 Mr. Southern California Drummer Contest, being held in Los Angeles June 23, will go entirely to AFA. An invitation-only party June 22, hosted by current Mr. Drummer Brian Dawson and Marathon Films, at which Marathon's new film "The Wall" will be premiered, also will benefit AFA.

Like the victims of any life-threatening illness, people with AIDS and ARC are often too weak to work and frequently have depleted their assets, but are not yet receiving government assistance such as Supplemental Security Income (SSI). AFA grants meet these financial needs and enable clients to maintain their dignity and self-esteem.

AFA is currently disbursing approximately $20,000 per month in financial assistance to clients — paying their rent, utility, medical, insurance, and other bills — and spending approximately $5,000 per month on its Vitamin/Pharmacy Program.

Like many organizations that have arisen as a result of the AIDS crisis, AFA's founders had no idea that they were forming a non-profit social service agency, or that it would be around so long or grow so large, when they first discussed it.

"We had no idea of the magnitude of the disease when we started AFA in May 1983," recalls Bill Green, one of AFA's founders. "Actually, it all came about as a result of my winning the Southern California Gay Bartenders' Real Man contest. I was tending bar at The Stud — now Griff's — in Silverlake. One of my contest prizes was a trip, and I raffled it off at The Stud with the understanding that the proceeds would go to AIDS Project Los Angeles (APLA) to provide financial help to people with AIDS. But then we found out that APLA didn't offer financial help to people with AIDS."

Green remembers "like it was yesterday" the night he announced the raffle winner. "Several of us stepped into a little leather shop next to The Stud and decided that of the $2,200 we'd collected, we would use $700 to form an organization that would help people with AIDS pay their bills, and donate the rest to APLA. I had been sponsored in the Real Man Contest by the Los Angeles Court, and Colin Booth — aka "Empress Hazel" — committed $100 of its funds right there, so we really started AFA with only $800."

AFA operated out of founding members' living rooms, keeping its records in cardboard boxes, until October 1985. Then, the newly-formed City of West Hollywood bestowed its first official grant on the agency, allowing AFA to rent office space and hire a full-time executive director. The agency now has a staff of four full-time employees, and an annual budget of $548,800. Administrative grants from the City of West Hollywood and Los Angeles County allow the agency to give more than 90 cents of each donated dollar to clients, an enviable record among social service agencies.

However, having an office and a paid staff doesn't mean AFA is now on easy street. In fact, with an ever-increasing caseload, AFA's financial needs are often nearly as dire as its clients'.

In the 1988-1989 fiscal year, AFA gave $255,000 to its clients. In the first three quarters of the current 1989-1990 fiscal year, AFA grants have already exceeded that amount. Unfortunately, the demand for AFA's funds keeps increasing. In April, requests for grants jumped 40% from the previous month. As a result, AFA could not fund each eligible client for their full requested amount.

"Los Angeles' leather and uniform communities are still among the agency's most loyal supporters," declares Jeffrey Lysaght, a longstanding member of the AFA Board of Directors and a member of the 22-person L.A.

Leather Committee which organized the "Wall Party" and Mr. Southern California Drummer Contest. The city's leather bars host numerous fundraisers for AFA, such as the monthly beer busts held at Griff's and the Gauntlet II — scene of the AIDS doctor's good-humored introduction to leather gear. AFA co-founder Colin "Empress Hazel" Booth acts as the fundraisers' popular auctioneer, and was instrumental in making that same Sunday afternoon event a $3,863 bonanza for AFA.

For the past few years, Lysaght has directed AFA's fundraising activities at Los Angeles leather bars, including the Gauntlet II. "I've been behind AFA since 1983," says Gauntlet II Manager Bob Linsley, whose support has been a mainstay to the agency. "They deal directly with people who need help, and our money goes directly to the people who need it. In fact, a lot of other agencies send their clients to AFA."

That's because AFA is still Los Angeles County's only non-profit agency making emergency cash grants available to members of the general public who have AIDS or ARC and are also in severe financial difficulties. In fact, since its inception, AFA has made cash grants to nearly 2,000 people to help pay their rent, utilities, transportation, and other bills.

To become eligible for a cash grant, an individual must come to AFA offices and present proof of an AIDS or ARC diagnosis; proof of financial need — i.e., an income of $700 a month or less; evidence that the client has applied for, but not yet received, government assistance; and substantiation for grant requests, such as rental agreements and utility bills. If recommended by an AFA case manager and approved by the AFA Grants Committee, the grant is paid directly to the landlord, utility company, insurance company, etc. A client can receive three monthly grants totalling $2,000.

AFA also has a Vitamin/Pharmacy Program which enables clients to receive up to $100 of doctor prescribed medications and nutritional supplements each month at participating pharmacies, and a Financial Counseling Program which helps people with AIDS and ARC learn how to cope with their financial situations.

Of course, I wish that this terrible epidemic would end and that AFA could close its doors because its services were no longer needed. That day will come. For now, however, AFA must continue its much-needed mission. To do that, the agency needs money. I want to thank the leather and uniform communities for their continued support, and I welcome any additional donations sent to our offices at 8325 Santa Monica Boulevard, Suite 200, West Hollywood, CA 90046.

The leather community has been at the forefront in the battle against AIDS since its inception. The AFA story is but one from across the country, and the world. We invite others to send us reports on similar achievements by leather men and women working together to fight this disease.

MR. SOUTHWEST DRUMMER

This year's Southwest Regional Mr. Drummer weekend brought together leatherfolk to party, select a new Mr. Southwest Drummer, and to discuss formation of a Phoenix chapter of the National Leather Association.

Ron Brewer was selected as Mr. Southwest Drummer 1990, and Andre' Kingsley was chosen as Southwest Drummer Boy 1990. Judges were Rick Conder, Mr. Southwest Drummer 1989, Teri Trotter, Ms Arizona Leather 1990, Marcus Hernandez ("Mr. Marcus" of San Francisco), Dave Rhodes, publisher of The Leather Journal, Jan Lyon, Ms NLA 1989, Lee Willis, owner of Stud Works in Seattle, Washington) and Jay Cunningham, Mr. Leather Arizona 1985.

Emceeing the contest were International Mr. Leather 1988 Michael Pereyra, and actor and director Steve Schemmel. Dennis Russel provided sign interpretation. The event was sponsored by the Bum SteeR of Phoenix.

The high point of the fantasy presentations had to be Ron Brewer's fantasy, a fantasy of military discipline as it might have been practiced by the Cavalry in Arizona Territory.

A special guest at the event was Arizona's State Representative Sue Laybe, addressing the audience concerning upcoming legislation of interest to the Gay and Leather communities.

MR. GERMANY DRUMMER

On Easter Sunday, over 500 men gathered in The Connection bar in West Berlin for the first Mr. Germany Drummer contest ever held. The contest had a very strong international flavor, as there will be only three Mr. Drummer contests this year to cover all of Europe. Nine contestants, from Germany, France, Sweden, and the Eastern Bloc countries performed to a packed house. (In fact, so many people had to be turned away that the producers have already promised next year's venue will be much larger.)

The judges came from Australia, San Francisco, Canada, France, Holland and Germany to pick Christian Dreesen Mr. Germany Drummer 1990. The judging panel was officiated by Steve Patten, Mr. Northern California Drummer 1989.

The event was produced by The Connection bar in Berlin, MSC Berlin, and Marathon Films. 7,000 Marks were raised for local AIDS charities.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Area contests in San Francisco and the Central Valley and South Bay areas led up to the Northern California Regional Mr. Drummer contest. Joe Hollinger and Kevin McCarthy from San Francisco, Steve Lesh and David Carranza from the Southbay, and Ric Lewis and Mike Deely from the Central Valley competed for the regional title.

Steve Lesh was selected as the new Mr. Northern California Drummer by judges Brian Dawson, Mr. Drummer 1989-90, Robert Kirk (the artist Kirby), Jack Fritscher of Palm Drive Video, Terry LeGrand of Marathon Films, Judy Tallwing-McCarthy, and Bill Bailey and David Gee of New World Rubbermen's Club.

Steve Patten, Mr. Northern California Drummer 1989, emceed the show, along with the new IMsL Gabrielle Antolovich. The event, a Dungeon Fantasy Production, was held at San Francisco's Towns End dance club, taking advantage of a very high-tech lighting and sound system, as well as an extremely persistent fog machine. □

Danny Beck Mr. East Canada Drummer 89-90

(What follows was submitted by Danny Beck to accompany his photo feature in issue 139. Unfortunately it did not arrive from Montréal in time for that issue.)

Sponsored by M.C. Faucon of Montréal, the first Mr. East Canada Drummer representative proudly made the Mr. Drummer contest beat to the international rhythm. He shows us today that the International aspect of the contest is now under construction, that the foundations are solid. So will be the infrastructure. He is actively involved in building a solid leather community up north, and at the same time, with David, his American lover from Florida, ensuring that no boundaries will ever stop them in their work towards awareness and acceptance.

Throughout the winter, he coordinated the sale of discount books and has produced Leather-Pride pins while a second pin carries a new Gay-and-Lesbian logo of which he is very proud. Profits of these are to be distributed to local and international leather events such as the running representation fees of Mr. Drummer International.

As a carrier of the first Mr. Leather Montréal title back in 86-87, he judged many of the contests that followed, including the recent Mr. Leather Montréal contest held last April.

He is actively involved in the preparations for "GAI(E)S-'90," a gay pride parade to be held next June 23rd within the Gay Village of Montréal, in concordance with the festivities of Saint-Jean Baptiste celebrations. After designing the logo to adorn the T-shirts and commemorative pins, he made sure that the leather community, including about fifteen different groups, would be well-represented. That night, he will pass on his title to the next Mr. East Canada Drummer.

Through his receptive tour agency Le Tour du Village, he also runs the fun-filled "French Connection Tours." These are ten day excursions (in June, July, and August) for gay men and women in which visits of touristic cities such as Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa and Lac Saint-Jean area are mixed with leisurely days of horseback riding, whale watching excursions, canoeing and white water rafting.

Danny Beck is proud to have represented the leather community of East Canada, especially the French community of the province of Quebec.

Danny Beck, M. Drummer 89-90 Section Est-Canada

Pârainné par M.C. Faucon de Montréal, ce tout premier représentant de la partie Est Canadienne a su fièrement faire battre ce concours à une rythme international. Il nous démontre aujourd'hui que l'aspect International de ce concours est présentement en construction et que les fondations sont maintenant solides. Son infrastructure le sera aussi. Il est présentement impliqué à construire une solide communauté de cuir au nord, tandis qu'avec son amant Américain David qui habite la Floride, il s'assure qu'aucune frontière ne les arrêtera dans leurs efforts en vue d'une acceptance et d'une prise de conscience du vécu du cuir.

Pendant la période hivernale, il a coordonné la vente de livrets-rabais. Il a aussi produit des macarons de fierté du cuir ainsi qu'un deuxième qui véhicule un logo Gai-et-Lesbien dont il est très fier. Les profits générés par la vente de ces produits sauront profiter à la cause de divers groupes et événements relatifs au cuir tels entre-autres le fond de déplacement de M. Drummer International.

En tant que premier représentant local du titre de M. Cuir Montréal en 86-87, il a agité comme juge lors des compétitions postérieures, incluant le récent concours tenu en Avril.

Il est activement impliqué dans les préparatifs de la parade de Fierté "GAI(E)S '90." Cette marche aura lieu le 23 juin prochain dans le Village Gai de Montréal, pendant la période des festivités entourant la fête de la Saint-Jean Baptiste. Après s'être occupé du Logo de la parade pour les T-shirts ainsi que des macarons commémoratifs, il s'est assuré de la présence des quelques quinze groupes et associations ainsi que de la représentation massive de général. Ce soir là, il remettra son titre au prochain représentant du titre de M. Drummer de l'Est du Canada lors de la finale de ce même concours régional.

Présentement en charge des ateliers de "Sexe Satisfaisant et Sécuritaire" en collaboration avec C-SAM, le groupe de support du SIDA de Montréal, il s'affaire souvent en soirée à démontrer que le sexe sécuritaire peut aisément être très satisfaisant. Le surtemps dans ses fonctions ne semble pas le gêner, surtout avec le bon groupe d'hommes.

Par l'entremise de sa compagnie réceptive, Le Tour du Village, il mène à bon port ses excursions "French Connection Tours." D'une durée de dix jours, ces excursions (en juin, juillet et août) pour hommes et femmes gai(e)s amènent les groupes à visiter les plus belles villes de l'Est du Canada, notamment Québec, Montréal, Ottawa et la région du Lac Saint-Jean. Des journées d'équitation, d'observation des baleines, de canoë et de descente de rivières alternent durant le séjour.

Inutile de résister plus longtemps si vous désirez visiter l'est du Canada. D'un simple appel, il s'assurera des détails de votre séjour, des réservations hôtelières, d'automobiles, du choix de restaurants, de tours de ville et de "Découvertes des Bars."

Extrêmement fier d'avoir pu représenter la communauté de cuir de l'Est du Canada, et particulièrement de la communauté francophone de la province du Québec, Danny Beck verra à toujours se dépasser pour que l'écho de ses pas prenne le rythme des autres hommes de Drummer qui fraternisent partout dans le monde.

By placing an ad in this section, a bar or other business is telling you that they welcome Leathermen.

By accepting their ad, Drummer is telling you that the bar has been recommended by a Leather/SM club or a recognized individual in the community as a good place to meet and socialize with other Leathermen. In larger cities, these will be THE leather bars; in other areas, they will be the more general purpose bars where Leathermen do go to socialize.

Help us alert Drummer readers and travelers to the RIGHT place to go to meet Leathermen in your part of the world. Send us your recommendations and talk to the right bar owners and managers about placing one of these low-priced ads. ## LIVING IN LEATHER

Living in Leather V, the national conference, is scheduled for October 23, 24, and 25, 1990, at the Coliseum in Portland, Oregon. Sponsored by the National Leather Association, this conference celebrates the diversity of the pan-sexual leather/SM/fetish community.

"The overwhelming success of four previous conferences contributes to increasing communication and understanding the leather family enjoys," explains Sallie Huber, Conference Director. Living in Leather is bridging the gaps between gay, lesbian, bisexual, and heterosexual leatherfolk. Informative workshops on political, social and community issues, as well as play techniques and strategies, complement an exhibition hall filled with many of the leather community's talented business and craftspeople, providing leather clothing and accessories, erotic art, literature, and equipment.

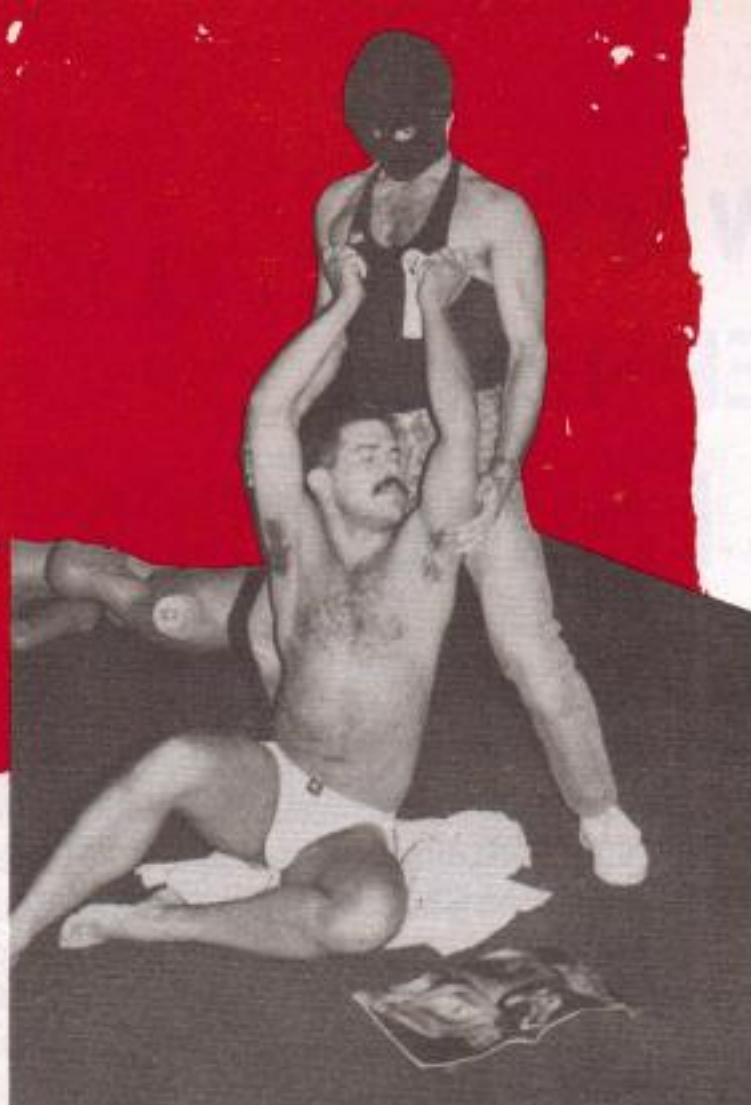

The Red Lion at the Coliseum is the host hotel this year and The Execulodge (formerly the Cosmopolitan) is providing rooms for additional participants.

With chapters, affiliates, and individual members from across the United States, Canada, and around the world, NLA is a catalyst for building, strengthening and defending the rights of adults to engage in safe, sane and consensual erotic expression. The phenomenal growth of membership is a testament to NLA's accomplishments at disproving negative stereotypes, misconceptions and media misrepresentations about the leather community's history, traditions, and culture.

Interview with SUSIE SHEPHERD International Ms Leather 1989

by Dustin Logan

Dustin: Tell us your coming out story.

Susie: I actually knew that I was gay at the age of five, but I didn't come out to my mother until the day of my 13th birthday. I told her all that I wanted for my birthday, was to have Kay (this gorgeous woman who happened to be our church choir director) to come to our family dinner. I told my mother I was a homosexual, but she said that I was role modeling and that Kay was an excellent role model for me.

I went back into the closet for the next eight years. I've now been out for over twenty years. When I came back out to my parents, they already knew my lover. She was a work associate of mine. I told my parents we had to talk. My mother said she didn't know if I was going to tell her that I was a lesbian, dropping out of school, or pregnant. I think she knew deep down what I had to say. I assured my parents that it was nothing they did wrong. It was just the true me. They said it was okay to be gay, but not to bring home my lover. Well, as I said, they already knew my lover, which made the whole thing much easier.

My lover and I bought the book Lesbian Women by Del Martin and Phyllis Lyon — the only definitive book on lesbianism. We bought three bookstores out and gave the books to every member of both families to read. Mother, who is an avid reader, knew what her next job was. She and Dad went on to eventually found the Oregon Chapter of Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays (P-Flag).

Dustin: How was coming out in leather different for you?

Susie: Coming out as a lesbian was much easier for me. Deep down, I knew that I was into leather, but I couldn't accept it. I believed every myth and stereotype I had heard. A friend took me into a dungeon for the first time over ten years ago, and I asked questions. Feeling totally hypocritical since at that time, I was pure vanilla, and touring the dungeon with a powerful vanilla friend in the community.

At one time in my life, I did sort of leather-bashing. I helped run out the pastor in our church because I knew he was into leather. Today, I feel awful about that, but I try to make amends by my involvement with IMsL, the NLA, people and the community.

In April '88, I had a major spiritual crisis. I weighed 239 pounds, had mouse brown hair, and was six months shy of being ten years clean and sober, and eleven years celibate. I knew I had to lose weight. I was having escalating non-vanilla fantasies, but I was paranoid. I would occasionally read the ads in The Advocate and masturbate. One day I ordered a male spanking catalog, which gave me relief on the one hand, but it made me more frustrated on the other, because I was still too scared to act out my fantasies. I knew something had to change. I started losing weight, and before I had lost the first ten pounds, I also knew I had to realize my leather/SM tendencies. I knew Judy Tallwing-McCarthy (IMsL '87) and Sashie Hyatt (Oregon State Leatherwoman '87) but avoided them because they represented my own fundamental truth. Their new organization "QUACK" (Queers United Against Closets) we became friends. Sashie blew open my leathercloset door on July 9, 1988 and it's been all out since. She and Judy took me to Living in Leather III where I had Judy redo my hair into what it is now and made my connection physically that Sashie had been bringing out spiritually.

Dustin: You are said to have a strong bond with men in leather.

Susie: Yes, I do. Because I was in denial for so long about my sexuality, men were my first role models. I really didn't know that many women in leather. I stayed friends with men in leather, and listened to all that they said, and I knew inside that they were really important to me, as well as what they had to say. I have had fantasies about men in leather, but they had nothing to do with sex, just with Gay SM. I feel we all need to accept who we are and not deny ourselves experiences just because someone is of the opposite sex. Why should I limit myself, even if only in my fantasies?

Dustin: Do you feel that drinking and drugs are a problem in the leather community?

Susie: Yes, I do. But not just in the leather community. It's a global problem. Overuse of alcohol and drugs kills people. I feel there is a split in our community between recovery and disease. For those who are in recovery, that's great. For those in the disease state, I find that very sad. At one point in my life, I was in the disease state. For a long time, I lived in denial of my problem. I had convinced myself that I did not have a problem.

Today, I do not drink or do drugs, and I daily choose not to start up again. By the Grace of God, I have been in recovery for over eleven years. You can find me in local jails once a week, spreading the message of recovery to help insure my own.

Susie Shepherd

— International Ms Leather 1989

Dustin: As IMsL, what are a few of the events you attended that really stick out in your mind?

Susie: Every single one of them sticks out in my mind. They were all trips to the max. But to name a few . . .

In Dallas, Texas, I judged the Gulf Coast Drummer Contest. The men were incredible. They kept calling me "Ma'am" all weekend. I told them that I was a bottom, and to call me Susie, but they said that I was a lady first, and that they would have to call me "Ma'am." I did a major modeling sequence in the show where I came out of pink fog all over the stage. At that time, I bonded with the audience. There was so much spiritual expression. I will always have love riveted to that city.

In Phoenix, Arizona, I co-emceed the Southwest Drummer Contest with Wes Decker. There was an auction where we hoped to raise $200.00, but unexpectedly, the auction took off like wild fire. We auctioned off pictures, gauntlets from the Studworks, drawings by Kirby, my pasties, and many other things. The power exchange between the audience and me was amazing. People were buying things right off my body. We wound up raising $1,500.00. Tony DeBlase got on the microphone afterwards while I was changing clothes, and raised $300.00 for my travel fund. The men were SO supportive. Women read Drummer, too, and we need to let women know just how much support we have from our brothers. I performed my fantasy with all six Drummerboys. They called me "Mom." It touched me to where I almost came. We had SO much fun.

INTERNATIONAL MS LEATHER 1990

GABRIELLE ANTOLOVICH

by R.M. "Race" Bannon

This year's International Ms Leather, Gabrielle Antolovich, is no stranger to the limelight. In her native Australia she achieved wide notoriety as a spokesperson for that country's gay and lesbian movement, then in its infancy. Her frequent appearances on television made her something of a household word in Australia, as "that lesbian."

Five years ago, at the age of 35, she moved to the United States and immediately discovered the leather/SM/fetish scene and her own affinity for it. Since that time her involvement in the scene has been considerable and pursuing the International Ms. Leather title seemed a natural next step. I met with Gabrielle just prior to an SM play party she was attending.

Race: You are one of the few women to be featured in the pages of Drummer. Some men will applaud that, some won't like it. If you had to say one thing to the gay men who are reading this magazine, what would it be?

Gabrielle: I would say that the one thing that opened me up from being a lesbian who only mixed with lesbians was a question I asked myself. "How do I know what it's really like over there if I don't make friends with those people?" And I've done that. I've taken that step. And I've been amazed at some of the similarities and some of the differences. Those differences don't make us enemies. They just make us colorful people.

Race: I'm interviewing you just prior to an SM play party. This party is unique (outside the SF/Bay Area) because men and women, gay, lesbian and straight will be playing in the same space. This kind of cross-mixing is a relatively recent phenomenon and you seem to be at the forefront of it. Any thoughts about this development?

Gabrielle: Political issues cannot be resolved by using tunnel vision. If I only mixed with lesbians, I would only get a portion of the ideas that I have about my vision of a positive world. I need to hang out with gay men and straight people to see how they feel about things before I can really get a good perspective. As a political activist, I feel I am one of those people who stands back to see the whole picture and listens to all sides. This is what I feel being a political activist and a title holder is all about. I'm fascinated with people who are different from me and I'm fascinated to know how people think and feel about things. Then I put it all together to see what we can all do to make things better.

Race: What do you think is going to be the number one issue you will need to address as you begin your year as International Ms. Leather?

Gabrielle: Well, there are actually three things I feel strongly about.

First, is to explain, even to people already in the scene, the difference between violence and SM. I've done this in the past in colleges and at various SM organizations. I usually use my own personal experiences to do this. I explain that I know how it feels to be violent and aggressive, but I also know how it feels when my dominance comes out. I constantly try to keep in touch with the differences and will never play when my dominance is polluted by violence or aggression.

Second, is to combat bottom-o-phobia. I often get the feeling that being a bottom, slave or submissive is looked upon as less than being a top, master/mistress or dominant. I know that's not true. I find that I have to educate bottoms to feel good about themselves before we can really get into relating, because if they feel less than equal as a person, then anything I do will make it worse. I got so sick of doing that on a one to one basis that I've taken it to the political platform. The more we come out of the closet, the more all these old ideas about ourselves will come out so we can address them head on.

Third, it's time for us to look at the older SM person. Some of the older gay SM men have said to me that an older gay man is shunned and discarded by the gay men's community, but an older SM man is looked up to because he has a lot of experience that he can offer the young ones. I thought, of course, this is our opportunity to take our place in our own community, as many other cultures have done, where the older person is looked up to because they have experience and can give the younger people so much knowledge. □

Wes gave me his right-arm heavy chain armband, which I now wear to every event I attend, and I gave him my left zig-zag armband.

Other events that were truly great for me, were Fantasy '89 in Omaha, Nebraska, and the 1989 Mr. Drummer Contest. Such special things happened at every event I attended, and I realized such powerful commitment from those involved. I will remember everything I did forever.

Dustin: What do you feel are some of your major accomplishments as IMsL?

Susie: A lot of AIDS fundraising, and getting disparate parts of communities to work together and talk out some of their differences. I tried very hard to be a positive role model. I also worked very hard to increase communication between the men and women everywhere I went. My leather brothers are now aware that they, as men, are fighting the same battles as women, in terms of trying to retain control of our bodies from the Supreme Court and State Legislative bodies.

Dustin: What qualities will you look for in your successor?

Susie: Someone who knows she is a leather woman, true to her lifestyle, with a history of politics in gay, leather or human rights. She should love people, and be comfortable working with various organizations. She should also be very well organized, in order to meet the many demands of the title.

I am sick of specious titleholders. My philosophy is, if you are running for a title, and you get it, then USE IT!

Dustin: What are your plans for the future?

Susie: I am committed to the NLA and will keep busy helping it grow. I want to get on the IMsL Board and use my year's experiences to make some changes. I will work on opposing anti-abortion issues and stay politically active. We have a major gubernatorial race coming up in Oregon, which will be very exciting to work on.

I want to stay involved every way I can in the leather community, helping with fundraisers, and keeping the community together.

Dustin: Your signature is always BOTTOMS UP, tell us about it.

Susie: Simple. I am an uppity bottom. I think the signature is very upbeat. It has pep and vigor. It's me.

Dustin: Do you have a farewell message to the community ending your year as IMsL?

Susie: The first words I uttered when I won. "Mazeltov, Sashie, and Shalom." Thank you from the bottom of my leather heart for the incredibly rich opportunity to serve you. It has been the most magic year of my life. I urge you all not to let your work stop here. Get involved with each other, and set aside your petty differences, so we can all continue to be Hell Bent for Leather in a Safe, Sane and Consensual Society.

Bottoms Up. □

THE DRUMMER CLASSIFIEDS

HOW TO PLACE YOUR AD IN DEAR SIR:

READ THIS!

We accept ads, and changes to ads, only in writing. Sorry, we cannot do this over the phone. Submit ads on the form on the facing page or a copy of it. If you can't bear to cut up your issue of Drummer and can't make photocopies, send us a note and we'll mail you copies of the form.

Box Numbers:

$5.00 buys you a Drummer mail box for the life of your ad. Even after your ad expires, we will continue to forward replies forever—as long as we keep getting letters.

Give us a name. We cannot forward mail to someone named "Boxholder" at a P.O. Box—the Post Office won't do it.

If your address changes, let us know. Include your box number with your new address, so you'll continue to receive replies.

Phone Numbers:

You can put your phone number in your ad for immediate response. WE WILL ONLY PUBLISH VERIFIED PHONE NUMBERS. Here's how to put your phone number in your ad:

Mail in your ad. (Don't forget to include the $2.00 phone verification charge.) About two weeks after you mail the ad to us, you call us at (415) 252-1195, during business hours (9:00 am—5:00 pm Pacific Time, Mon-Fri). Be at the phone number you are placing in your ad. We will call you back to verify the number. If we have not verified your number within three months, we will publish the ad with a box number instead of a phone number.

You only need to verify a number once. Once it has appeared in print in Drummer, just attach a copy of the printed ad to your new ad if you wish to use that telephone number again. We will not publish voice-mail service numbers in personal ads. Don't forget to include your area code.

What else?

Put anything you want in your ad, except: references to minors, animals, prostitution or drugs.

Expect about a 60-day delay from the time we receive your ad to when it appears in print. Remember, it takes time for people to respond, too. So if you're looking for Christmas presents, it would be smart to send us the ad 90 or 120 days before Christmas. Also remember replies by international mail may take longer than domestic mail.

HOW TO REPLY TO A DEAR SIR AD:

How to reply to a Drummer box number: Answering a Drummer box number is easy, but the few rules we have are hard and fast, so observe them or else: 1.) Seal your letter in an envelope on which you have written the box number on the back flap in pencil. 2.) Put your return address on the envelope if you wish to letter to be returned to you should there be some problem with delivery. 3.) Put proper postage on the envelope—domestic postage is 25¢ for the first ounce, 20¢ for each additional ounce. Foreign overseas postage is 45¢ per one-half ounce. 4.) Put the sealed letter(s) and a buck ($1.00) forwarding fee for each letter in another envelope and mail it to DESMODUS, Inc., PO Box 11314, San Francisco, CA 94101-1314. Letters not properly prepared will be destroyed.

Desmodus will forward responses to ads in back issues. However, we cannot guarantee that old addresses will still be valid. Remember, the US Postal Service will not return mail without your return address. Keep in mind that people do move and their needs and desires do change.

JOIN THE LEATHER FRATERNITY!

Membership has its privileges: a 12-issue subscription to Drummer and a free 10-line classified ad (as measured on the grid order form) in Drummer that runs for 12 issues. Leather Fraternity members also do not pay for a box number or pay forwarding fees when they write to Dear Sir box numbers. Members may change their ads up to three times (non-members may not). A Leather Fraternity box number for your ad is included in the $120 membership fee. And, from time to time, Leather Fraternity members are offered other benefits.

Add it up: A Drummer subscription costs $70. A 10 line personal ad running 12 times would cost $354.60. No mail forwarding fee? No box fee? So, even if you never use the forwarding service, you're already saving at least $328.00. Do it.

Just use the grid order form in this magazine. Your subscription will begin with the next issue we ship, and your ad will begin usually two issues after that (there is always a 60-day delay from the time we receive an ad, or a change to an ad, and when it appears in print.)

Cockrings

Cockrings are available in four diameters: 1 1/4", 1 1/2", 1 3/4", and 2". Each size is available with a single electrode and conductive material running the full circle, or with two electrodes and separate areas of conductive material on each half of the circle. Specify size when ordering (if you don't we will select for you), and use the product numbers here to indicate single- or double-electrode.

Single Electrode

Sparkler

This is a short length of conductive rubber (approximately 6" long by 1/8" diameter). It works well in any moist opening or crevice: ass, crotch, urethra.

PHYSICAL INTERROGATION TECHNIQUES

by Richard W. Krousher

"One of the most terrifying and gruesome books ever printed!"

The book that tells you what no other book will: how to torture information out of an unwilling subject. Most people will not have the stomach to read it, but those who do will learn more about torture and torment than they dreamed possible.

In step-by-step chilling detail, Physical Interrogation Techniques tells you how to evaluate a subject to determine what kinds of torture will be most effective, and then goes into grisly detail on actual methods of torture. The author covers humiliation, confinement and restraint, sensory deprivation/overload, intrusion into body orifices, abrasion, beating, burning, electricity, and much more, including a heavy-duty chapter on mutilation.

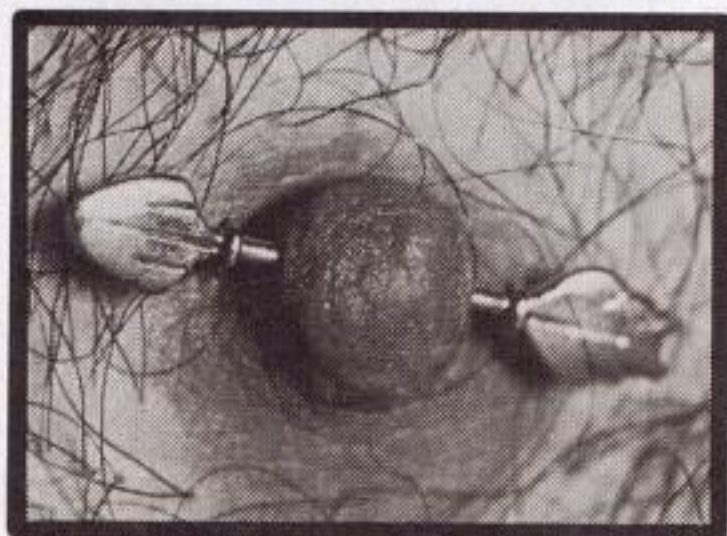

It is the best book ever written on torture and interrogation techniques. You may not "enjoy" this material, but you will never forget it!

TOUGH CUSTOMERS

TC 140-03 UNCUT MASTER

This TC from Portugal really had a great time in the USA before, so he's coming back to California, Chicago and New York in September, 1990. Surely there are a few "moustached bottom slaves" who want to serve this "ugly, active, big dick-ed, uncut Master."

BE A DRUMMERMAN! Leathermen ARE Drummer. These photos were contributed by Drummer readers—YOU should be on this page. Send us a black and white photo (color is acceptable but does not reproduce well) with your name and address printed on the back, along with a statement that you are of legal age, and your signature. If you wish, we will assign you a confidential TC Box Number—this is a FREE classified ad with your picture in it! Or, if you just want your picture in our pages and don't want any mail, just say so. We can't show penetration, and photos are not returnable.

To answer a TC ad, put your correspondence in an envelope, seal, apply postage, and write, in pencil, the TC Number on the back flap. Put this inside another envelope along with a buck for handling, and mail to: Tough Customers, P O Box 11314, SF, CA 94101-1314.

TC 140-01 ON THE ROAD A LOT

This Georgia-based TC says he travels a lot, and that he has "a tight end, a large piece of meat, and small hand. You figure out the rest."

TC 140-02 SPANISH PASSIVE

Spanish civil servant, passive & maso, seeks letters and exchanges with men 25-50. Likes all sorts of music and art, sports and hobbies, as well as black leather, SM, boots, jeans, uniforms, and photos. He speaks only Spanish at the moment, but he's working on English... give him a hand. Write directly to Mr. M. Alvarez Hevia, Apto de correos 37, E-33430 Candás, Asturias, SPAIN.

TOUGH CUSTOMER SPECIAL PUBLICATION!

Drummer readers tell us that the Tough Customers pages are among their favorite features. And we get lots of pictures, all the time, more than we could ever fit into Drummer. Quite a problem, isn't it? Too many hot men sending in private pictures of themselves, hoping to hear from other Drummer readers. The solution: A sizzling 84-page special publication with nearly a hundred NEW Tough Customers and more than fifty of our favorite TCs from past issues (some of them shown in previously unpublished pictures). And, to raise the ante even further, we're reprinting about 350 current personal ads from Drummer in the same special pub. That adds up to contact information for over 500 men looking to connect with other men. Watch for it. Better yet, order your copy from us: Desmodus, Inc., P O Box 11314, San Francisco, CA 94101-1314. Send $6.95 per copy, plus $2.00 shipping and handling.
